Four Escaped Iowa Convicts Captured

Armed Felons Terrorize Two Farm Wives

Wild Chase Marked By Police Gunfire

GEORGETOWN, Iowa (UPI)—Four escaped convicts were captured Thursday after they terrorized two farm wives and threatened to knife a 10-year-old girl to death.

The heavily - armed fugitives were trapped with their stolen cars 100 miles from the Iowa State Penitentiary at Fort Madison, where they had held two guards captive at knife-point while they sawed their way to freedom 34 hours before.

An alert farmer's tip, a burst of submachine gun fire, and a wild chase over country roads led to the capture.

The desperadoes surrendered meekly, despite an armory of knives, blackjacks, a rifle and a shotgun. First, however, they threatened death in two farm homes.

The fugitives, chased by machine gun fire from a pursuing police car, crashed their stolen auto in the rear of the John Cowles farm.

Woman Alone With Baby

Mrs. Catherine Cowles, 35, alone with her 10-month-old son heard the crash from the basement, went upstairs, and met two of the convicts coming through the kitchen door with guns levelled.

"Sit down and keep quiet," they ordered.

The lawmen blocked the farm driveway moments later. The two convicts left the house, found themselves trapped, and surrendered.

The roundup netted only three of the fugitives, however. They were Lloyd Woodson, 38, bantam-sized cop killer from Quincy, Ill., and the leader of the breakout; robber Albert Maxwell Boerger, 27, Quincy; and burglar Robert Janes, 25, Fairfield, Iowa.

The fourth escapee, described as a "young punk" by his prison warden, added a final touch of terror to the escape attempt.

Final Trick of Terror

Elun Girdler, a 23-year-old from Peoria, Ill., convicted of breaking and entering, escaped the first trap. He fled into a patch of woods near this southern Iowa village, dodging a burst of gunfire.

Minutes later, he appeared at the Ed Coady farm home. Mrs. Coady was alone with her 10-year-old daughter and 14-month-old boy. She had not even heard of the prison break and the three-state search for the fugitives.

Girdler walked into the Coady home with a big, open pocket knife in his hand. He demanded the keys to the family car.

"He threatened to kill my daughter if I didn't," Mrs. Coady told United Press International.

The farm wife tried to telephone for help, but Girdler had cut the wires. So she ran to a nearby grocery and gave the alarm.

Girdler was caught within the hour. He was trapped on a road near the hamlet of Tyrone, Iowa.

Probers Scan Prosecutor's Sudden Wealth

Buys $43,599 Home On $12,000 Salary

CHARGES "SMEAR"—Metro Holovachka, former prosecutor in Lake County, Ind., talks to newsmen in Washington yesterday. Holovachka, according to a Senate Rackets Committee investigator, paid $43,599, mostly in cash, for a new home while making a $12,000 salary. He told reporters that the committee was "smearing me." Holovachka's name has been linked with reported labor racketeering in Indiana counties near Chicago. (AP Photofax)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Metro Holovachka, while a $12,000-a-year prosecutor in racket-ridden Lake County, Ind., paid $43,599 mostly in cash for a home, a Senate investigator said Thursday.

Counsel Robert F. Kennedy of the Senate rackets probers said this while trying without success to get information from Steven Sohacki and George Welborun, alleged operators of multimillion-dollar pinball-gambling rackets in Lake County.

Sohacki and Welbourn again and again invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer Kennedy's questions.

Among other things, Sohacki and Welbourn would not say whether they ever bribed county law officers or whether they worked with Holovachka to drive competing operators out of the county.

Holovachka, now deputy prosecutor in Lake County, is on call to testify Monday. He was in the hearing room Thursday, and told newsmen he had done no wrong. He accused the Senate committee of "smearing me."

Cornelius Verplank, head of the Gary, Ind., Crime Commission, testified that honest citizens in that steelmaking area near Chicago have "just no one to appeal to" for help in stamping out vice.

Verplank complained that his group had no success in soliciting aid from every level of government in Indiana. He said that when reform elements took the matter to then Gov. George N. Craig, the governor said "he didn't get enough support down there in Lake County." Craig didn't seem too interested, Verplank added.

He said a private investigator for the crime commission once found 64 gambling and prostitution places running wide open. A list of these places was sent to Holovachka, Mayor Peter Mendich and Police Chief John Foley, Verplank swore, but nothing was done.

Because of his anticrime activities, Verplank said, the underworld threatened his family with death and "tried to buy the Gary Crime Commission." He did not say who made the threats or offered bribes.

Kennedy said the record shows that while making $12,000 a year as prosecutor in Lake County in 1955 and 1956, Holovachka spent $43,599.46 for a home on the shore of Lake Michigan. He said the home now is valued at $80,000.

Students Help Ecuador Army Restore Order

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP) — Students blamed for touching off riots that claimed 23 lives in Guayaquil were hailed Thursday for switching to the government's side to suppress looting.

They helped the troops of Col. Ricardo Pineiros restore order after the rioting degenerated Wednesday night into wholesale thievery by members of a mob that President Camilo Ponce's government declared was Communist-inspired.

University and high school students, political bellwethers here as in other Latin - American lands, had staged a series of demonstrations in a feud with police. But they couldn't stomach the sequel.

"When the students realized the mob was engaged in wild looting, they reacted patriotically and gave us their assistance," said Pineiros, commander of the Guayaquil military zone.

With 23 dead and more than 150 injured in two nights of disorders, the troops and students finally brought the situation under control about midnight.

Rioters had sacked about 40 stores and two big markets in this tropical port city of 275,000, Ecuador's largest. Even an orphanage was looted.

Security police headquarters was burned down. Gasoline drained from car tanks fed the flames.

Prisoners escaped from their jail cells during the fire. Some joined the looters.

Rioters drove firemen away. They also stormed police headquarters but were driven back.

About 100 persons were caught with loot. They were jailed for trials before courts-martial under martial law decreed by President Ponce throughout this predominantly Indian nation of nearly four million people.

U.S. Navy Sights Russ Submarine Off Iceland Coast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said Thursday night a Soviet submarine was sighted by a U.S. submarine and airplane off the coast of Iceland just a week ago.

In response to questions, the Navy reported only that: "A Soviet submarine was sighted on the surface south of Iceland at 8:26 p.m., EDT, May 29 by the submarine Grenadier and a Navy patrol plane. Grenadier and the patrol plane were engaged in exercises."

Navy spokesmen were unable to say whether the Soviet submarine appeared to be a conventional attack type or a missile launcher.

The reference to Navy exercises may have meant that the Soviet submerisble was watching U.S. naval operations.

Mass Killer Fails In New Attempt To Escape Chair

Three U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals judges threw out the 20-year-old slayer's bid for a writ of habeas corpus and refused to stay his execution any longer.

The previously granted stay expired Thursday and no new date has been set.

Nebraska Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck, in Omaha for Thursday's court session, said he will ask the State Supreme Court to set a new date. Acting State Penitentiary Warden John Greenholtz said it will take at least a couple of days to prepare for the execution.

The news reached Starkweather by radio in his state prison cell.

When the warden visited him moments later he asked the stubby red-haired youth whether he had any comment.

"No," he answered, "I don't have anything to say."

Starkweather contended he had been denied his constitutional rights.

Three prominent attorneys, appointed by the court, argued the question Thursday before the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals.

But the three federal judges—Harvey M. Johnsen and Joseph W. Woodrough of Omaha and Martin D. Von Oosterhout of Sioux City, Iowa—held that the matter didn't belong in the federal courts.

Starkweather was convicted of one of 11 knife and gun killings he admitted. All but one took place in a murder rampage 16 months ago.

OAS To Probe Rebel Invasion Of Nicaragua

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Organization of American States (OAS) voted overwhelmingly Thursday to investigate the airborne invasion of Nicaragua as a possible threat to the peace of the hemisphere.

The vote which brought the American treaty of reciprocal assistance into effect, was 17 in favor, 2 against. One member was absent and one did not vote.

Venezuela and Cuba voted against and Bolivia was absent. Nicaragua, as the party involved, could not vote. Eleven votes were necessary for approval of the request made by Nicaraguan Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa.

The OAS Council authorized a special committee to gather additional information needed in order for it to take any further measures. The council's action called a meeting of the foreign ministers of the 21 American republics to consider the situation.

Ecuadorean Ambassador Gonzalo Escuedero, chairman of the council, immediately appointed the representatives of Brazil, the United States, Mexico and Uruguay to the special committee.

Nicaragua Bolsters Its Military Forces

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — President Luis Somoza's government bolstered its armed strength Thursday and got tough with civilian opponents at home. The government's actions contrasted with claims of easy victory over a small band of invaders.

Two planeloads of invaders, many described as political exiles, landed in Nicaragua early this week fron neighboring Costa Rica. Somoza soon announced his troops had them on the run and would wipe them out.

Government estimates have not listed rebel strength at any more than 75 men. But the threat to Somoza's regime immediately set up echoes throughout the hemisphere, especially in Cuba and Venezuela, which recently got rid of their dictators.

The Venezuelan Chamber of Deputies passed a resolution unanimously backing the people of Nicaragua in their fight for freedom.

In Havana, Nicaraguan exiles began selling rebel bonds to finance the insurgent forces. A number of Cuban labor unions were among the first to subscribe.

Nicaragua has taken the case to the Organization of American States. Nicaraguan Ambassador Guillermo-Sevill Sacas told the OAS that three yachts from Cuba were nearing his country's coast carrying revolutionaries from other nations.

Some here in Managua were skeptical of that report. So was Cuban Ambassador Raul Rao, who protested to the OAS and said it should not intervene as it did in Panama recently. Panama was invaded by a band of adventurers from Cuba and the OAS negotiated their surrender.

7,683 Miles Non-Stop

Light Plane Record Broken By Conrad

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tireless nonstop pilot Max Conrad—gaunt, thirsty and happy—ended Thursday a nearly 8,000-mile solo light plane flight from Casablanca, Africa.

He brought his blue-and-white, single-engine craft in for a perfect landing at International Airport at 4:47 p.m. EST. He took off at 6:09 a.m. EST Tuesday. He was in the air 58 hours, 38 minutes. Airport sources gave the distance as 7,683 miles.

The 56-year-old veteran of the airlanes claimed a new distance record for light planes. He far exceeded the 6,979 miles flown by W. L. (Pat) Boling from Manila to Oregon.

Conrad lurched stiffly from the cockpit of his Piper Comanche and told reporters he was thirsty. He smiled with vast relief as someone handed him a soft drink.

He said he ate nothing on the flight, got sick from rancid tea over Cuba, and felt so good he planned a walk "to get the kinks out" before resting.

Conrad's plane skimmed in and out of light overcast almost unnoticed even by those waiting for him. He had planned to stop at El Paso, and extending his trip here was a surprise.

This was his 56th flight across the Atlantic Ocean and by far the longest.

He said his longest previous flight was 36 hours.

Conrad told reporters he flew a big circle over Trinidad, touched the U.S. coast near Corpus Christi, Tex., and crossed the southwestern United States.

"I've got 18 gallons of gasoline left and I'd trade that for a glass of water," he said.

Somebody handed him the water.

He didn't bring any water along for lack of room.

Asked how he felt about his flight, Conrad said: "Fine. Everybody likes to break a record. I've done that dozens of times but never officially. I finally decided to do it officially."

Charles Vidor, Veteran Film Director, Dies

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Charles Vidor, 59, veteran Hollywood director, died at a hotel here Thursday night after a heart attack.

Vidor came here three weeks ago to direct "Magic Flame," a film based on the life of Franz Liszt and starring British actor Dick Bogarde.

His death was announced by Bob Yaeger, publicity spokesman for the film company.

Vidor had been staying at the Imperial Hotel in downtown Vienna.

Yaeger said Vidor had been in apparent good health until about 11 p.m. when he complained of pains in his chest and arm. Yaeger called assistant director Milton Feldman, who summoned a physician. Before the director could be given assistance, he died in Feldman's arms.

Vidor's wife Doris left Vienna Wednesday to return to the United States.

Vidor was credited with helping tc make stars of Rita Hayworth and Glenn Ford. Among his pictures were "Gilda," and "Cover Girl."

Yaeger said the shooting of "Magic Flame" will be halted until a new director is assigned by Hollywood and Vidor's funeral is arranged.

USW Board Calls Wage Policy Meeting

NEW YORK (UPI) — The international executive board of the United Steelworkers lashed out Thursday at the steel industry's proposed wage freeze and demanded that the industry get down to serious collective bargaining.

The 33-man board authorized the union's officers to summon the key wage policy committee to New York to report on the deadlocked negotiations.

Cancer Society Plans Big Drive Against Smoking

BOSTON (UPI) — The American Cancer Society Thursday voted to wage a massive anti-smoking campaign aimed mostly at teenagers.

Meeting here, the society's board of directors called for more vigorous efforts to "bring to the attention of physicians and the public — and particularly teenagers — facts about cancer and smoking."

Dr. Howard C. Taylor, chairman of the society's special committee on tobacco and cancer, reported that the society's staff had been directed to prepare plans and estimates of costs for a "total educational effort toward modification of the smoking habit in a community."

Ike Set To Ask Bond Interest Ceiling Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower gave solid indication Thursday he shortly will ask Congress to increase the interest rate ceiling on government bonds, as well as the 288-billion-dollar ceiling on the federal debt.

Eisenhower said the national prosperity is assuming "boom proportions" and will bring heavy demands for investors' funds with which the Treasury, in its offerings of government securities must be in a position to compete.

If it is not in such position, he said, "we are going to be in trouble, particularly if we are denied the right to bid on a business basis—that is at realistic interest rates."

Eisenhower made his comments in an extemporaneous talk to members of the Society of Business Magazine Editors.

Eisenhower delivered a strong appeal for reduction of the national debt and the interest burden which it imposes on taxpayers.

"That debt is important because we are today taking more than eight billion dollars out of your pockets for interest payments alone, with no reduction of the debt itself," he said.

"That eight billion dollars of interest is going up.

"This is so because in this time of great prosperity, every kind of economic activity is seeking new money.

"America—the federal government—has to compete with that kind of demand, not only for the eight billion dollars in interest payments on our national debt, but we have to compete in the market place on selling our bonds which have to be sound."

In his January budget message, Eisenhower said he would ask Congress later to increase the ceiling on the federal debt. The present 288 billion dollar limit is temporary; it drops automatically to 283 billion on June 30 unless it is increased again.

Now It's Cat With 'Wings' Found In West Va. Hills

PINEVILLE, W.Va. (AP)—A lot of things have come out of the West Virginia hills, but hardly anything like this before.

A cat with wings.

Well, they're not real wings, maybe. Thomas—that's the cat's name, even if she is a girl—can't fly. At least, she hasn't so far. But they sure look like wings.

Doug Shelton, a 15-year-old high school freshman, was walking through the woods several days ago when he heard some yapping. He saw a dog had treed something. Curious, he shinnied up the tree and took a look.

There was this cat. With what looked for all the world like wings.

Doug tucked the cat under his arm, shooed the pooch away and took her home.

Folks in this small southern West Virginia community got a kick out of her. They measured her wings. About nine inches long. Each one.

Thomas went along with the attention, eating table scraps and choice bits of fish just like any other cat. Only when she got her dander up about something would she be any different. Then the wings would sort of spread out like a hawk diving for a pullet.

Thomas looks much like a Persian, with light-colored long hair. The wings apparently have no bones but are formed by a cartilage-like growth.

A Baltimore veterinarian suggested that perhaps the wings were the result of a freak of nature in trying to grow an extra pair of legs.

Allies Seek Berlin Open Door Pledge

Guarantee Asked By Big 3 As Test Of Russ Sincerity

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko sidetracked Thursday a Western bid for a guarantee of free access to West Berlin.

The three Western ministers, in a 90-minute secret session, asked for the guarantee as a test of Soviet willingness to reach a compromise agreement in the Berlin crisis.

President Eisenhower warned that he would refuse to go to a summit meeting unless the Soviets withdrew their threat to the isolated city and its exposed supply lines.

Western informants said Gromyko, in the "no progress" session, said he would be happy to assure free access to West Berlin—but posed this block: Such a guarantee would be forthcoming if the West agreed to convert West Berlin to a demilitarized free city.

Proposal Repeatedly Rejected

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville repeatedly have rejected this Soviet proposal, on the ground it would end the Western occupation and leave West Berlin defenseless.

British informants said Gromyko indicated he would be willing to return to a discussion of the access question after the conference agreed on the future of West Berlin.

Gromyko has suggested as an alternative to his free city proposal that Soviet troops might be posted in West Berlin alongside the 10,000-man Western garrison. The Western ministers have rejected this.

The atmosphere at the meeting was pleasant, said one French informant, "but as far as progress is concerned, it might as well never have taken place."

Khrushchev May Ease Stand

Western officials were not ruling out the possibility that Gromyko might take a more compromising line on the crucial access question after consultation with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Khrushchev might be willing to compromise in order to get President Eisenhower to meet him at the summit.

Gromyko, who is in close touch with Khrushchev by courier and cable, has given up plans to meet the Premier face-to-face over the weekend, Soviet sources said.

It was Khrushchev's threat last November, to transfer to the East Germans Soviet controls over the Western lifelines, that precipitated the current Berlin crisis.

Adenauer Will Keep Top Post

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has decided to remain chancellor of West Germany instead of running for president, a party chief announced Thursday night.

Will Rasner, chief whip of Adenauer's Christian Democrats, told reporters that Adenauer had informed the party floor leader, Heinrich Krone, that he no longer wanted to run for president.

Close associates of the 83-year-old Chancellor said he has changed his mind about the presidency because he believes the international situation requires him to remain in direct control of the government.

It is expected that Adenauer will tell his party about his change of mind at an emergency meeting of the parliamentary faction Friday morning.

Adenauer originally accepted his party's nomination as presidential candidate with the explanation that he was ensuring a smooth continuation of his policy.

But it has been anything but smooth since, as his party has been split over the succession.

Khrushchev Stops Off In Budapest

BUDAPEST, Hungary (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev arrived Thursday for an informal "visit of friendship" on his way back to Moscow from Albania.

But soon after his arrival, Khrushchev spent three hours discussing questions of "mutual interest" with Hungarian Communist party and government leaders, according to unofficial Hungarian government sources.

7,683 Miles Non-Stop

Light Plane Record Broken By Conrad

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tireless nonstop pilot Max Conrad—gaunt, thirsty and happy—ended Thursday a nearly 8,000-mile solo light plane flight from Casablanca, Africa.

He brought his blue-and-white, single-engine craft in for a perfect landing at International Airport at 4:47 p.m. EST. He took off at 6:09 a.m. EST Tuesday. He was in the air 58 hours, 38 minutes. Airport sources gave the distance as 7,683 miles.

The 56-year-old veteran of the airlanes claimed a new distance record for light planes. He far exceeded the 6,979 miles flown by W. L. (Pat) Boling from Manila to Oregon.

Conrad lurched stiffly from the cockpit of his Piper Comanche and told reporters he was thirsty. He smiled with vast relief as someone handed him a soft drink.

He said he ate nothing on the flight, got sick from rancid tea over Cuba, and felt so good he planned a walk "to get the kinks out" before resting.

Conrad's plane skimmed in and out of light overcast almost unnoticed even by those waiting for him. He had planned to stop at El Paso, and extending his trip here was a surprise.

This was his 56th flight across the Atlantic Ocean and by far the longest.

He said his longest previous flight was 36 hours.

Conrad told reporters he flew a big circle over Trinidad, touched the U.S. coast near Corpus Christi, Tex., and crossed the southwestern United States.

"I've got 18 gallons of gasoline left and I'd trade that for a glass of water," he said.

Somebody handed him the water.

He didn't bring any water along for lack of room.

Asked how he felt about his flight, Conrad said: "Fine. Everybody likes to break a record. I've done that dozens of times but never officially. I finally decided to do it officially."

Charles Vidor, Veteran Film Director, Dies

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Charles Vidor, 59, veteran Hollywood director, died at a hotel here Thursday night after a heart attack.

Vidor came here three weeks ago to direct "Magic Flame," a film based on the life of Franz Liszt and starring British actor Dick Bogarde.

His death was announced by Bob Yaeger, publicity spokesman for the film company.

Vidor had been staying at the Imperial Hotel in downtown Vienna.

Yaeger said Vidor had been in apparent good health until about 11 p.m. when he complained of pains in his chest and arm. Yaeger called assistant director Milton Feldman, who summoned a physician. Before the director could be given assistance, he died in Feldman's arms.

Vidor's wife Doris left Vienna Wednesday to return to the United States.

Vidor was credited with helping to make stars of Rita Hayworth and Glenn Ford. Among his pictures were "Gilda," and "Cover Girl."

Yaeger said the shooting of "Magic Flame" will be halted until a new director is assigned by Hollywood and Vidor's funeral is arranged.

USW Board Calls Wage Policy Meeting

NEW YORK (UPI) — The international executive board of the United Steelworkers lashed out Thursday at the steel industry's proposed wage freeze and demanded that the industry get down to serious collective bargaining.

The 33-man board authorized the union's officers to summon the key wage policy committee to New York to report on the deadlocked negotiations.

Ike Set To Ask Bond Interest Ceiling Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower gave solid indication Thursday he shortly will ask Congress to increase the interest rate ceiling on government bonds, as well as the 288-billion-dollar ceiling on the federal debt.

Eisenhower said the national prosperity is assuming "boom proportions" and will bring heavy demands for investors' funds with which the Treasury, in its offerings of government securities must be in a position to compete.

If it is not in such position, he said, "we are going to be in trouble, particularly if we are denied the right to bid on a business basis—that is at realistic interest rates."

Eisenhower made his comments in an extemporaneous talk to members of the Society of Business Magazine Editors.

Eisenhower delivered a strong appeal for reduction of the national debt and the interest burden which it imposes on taxpayers.

"That debt is important because we are today taking more than eight billion dollars out of your pockets for interest payments alone, with no reduction of the debt itself," he said.

"That eight billion dollars of interest is going up.

"This is so because in this time of great prosperity, every kind of economic activity is seeking new money.

"America—the federal government—has to compete with that kind of demand, not only for the eight billion dollars in interest payments on our national debt, but we have to compete in the market place on selling our bonds which have to be sound."

In his January budget message, Eisenhower said he would ask Congress later to increase the ceiling on the federal debt. The present 288 billion dollar limit is temporary; it drops automatically to 283 billion on June 30 unless it is increased again.

Death For Treason

ACCRA (AP) — Ghana has announced the treason laws are being amended to provide for the death penalty.

Cancer Society Plans Big Drive Against Smoking

BOSTON (UPI) — The American Cancer Society Thursday voted to wage a massive anti-smoking campaign aimed mostly at teenagers.

Meeting here, the society's board of directors called for more vigorous efforts to "bring to the attention of physicians and the public — and particularly teenagers — facts about cancer and smoking."

Dr. Howard C. Taylor, chairman of the society's special committee on tobacco and cancer, reported that the society's staff had been directed to prepare plans and estimates of costs for a "total educational effort toward modification of the smoking habit in a community."

Mass Killer Fails In New Attempt To Escape Chair

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Condemned killer Charles Starkweather failed Thursday in his latest attempt to escape Nebraska's electric chair.

Three U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals judges threw out the 20-year-old slayer's bid for a writ of habeas corpus and refused to stay his execution any longer.

The previously granted stay expired Thursday and no new date has been set.

Nebraska Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck, in Omaha for Thursday's court session, said he will ask the State Supreme Court to set a new date. Acting State Penitentiary Warden John Greenholtz said it will take at least a couple of days to prepare for the execution.

The news reached Starkweather by radio in his state prison cell.

When the warden visited him moments later he asked the stubby red-haired youth whether he had any comment.

"No," he answered, "I don't have anything to say."

Starkweather contended he had been denied his constitutional rights.

Three prominent attorneys, appointed by the court, argued the question Thursday before the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals.

But the three federal judges—Harvey M. Johnsen and Joseph W. Woodrough of Omaha and Martin D. Von Oosterhout of Sioux City, Iowa—held that the matter didn't belong in the federal courts.

Starkweather was convicted of one of 11 knife and gun killings he admitted. All but one took place in a murder rampage 16 months ago.

Now It's Cat With 'Wings' Found In West Va. Hills

PINEVILLE, W.Va. (AP)—A lot of things have come out of the West Virginia hills, but hardly anything like this before.

A cat with wings.

Well, they're not real wings, maybe. Thomas—that's the cat's name, even if she is a girl—can't fly. At least, she hasn't so far. But they sure look like wings.

Doug Shelton, a 15-year-old high school freshman, was walking through the woods several days ago when he heard some yapping. He saw a dog had treed something. Curious, he shinnied up the tree and took a look.

There was this cat. With what looked for all the world like wings.

Doug tucked the cat under his arm, shooed the pooch away and took her home.

Folks in this small southern West Virginia community got a kick out of her. They measured her wings. About nine inches long. Each one.

Thomas went along with the attention, eating table scraps and choice bits of fish just like any other cat. Only when she got her dander up about something would she be any different. Then the wings would sort of spread out like a hawk diving for a pullet.

Thomas looks much like a Persian, with light-colored long hair. The wings apparently have no bones but are formed by a cartilage-like growth.

A Baltimore veterinarian suggested that perhaps the wings were the result of a freak of nature in trying to grow an extra pair of legs.

Allies Seek Berlin Open Door Pledge

Guarantee Asked By Big 3 As Test Of Russ Sincerity

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko sidetracked Thursday a Western bid for a guarantee of free access to West Berlin.

The three Western ministers, in a 90-minute secret session, asked for the guarantee as a test of Soviet willingness to reach a compromise agreement in the Berlin crisis.

President Eisenhower warned that he would refuse to go to a summit meeting unless the Soviets withdrew their threat to the isolated city and its exposed supply lines.

Western informants said Gromyko, in the "no progress" session, said he would be happy to assure free access to West Berlin—but posed this block: Such a guarantee would be forthcoming if the West agreed to convert West Berlin to a demilitarized free city.

Proposal Repeatedly Rejected

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville repeatedly have rejected this Soviet proposal, on the ground it would end the Western occupation and leave West Berlin defenseless.

British informants said Gromyko indicated he would be willing to return to a discussion of the access question after the conference agreed on the future of West Berlin.

Gromyko has suggested as an alternative to his free city proposal that Soviet troops might be posted in West Berlin alongside the 10,000-man Western garrison. The Western ministers have rejected this.

The atmosphere at the meeting was pleasant, said one French informant, "but as far as progress is concerned, it might as well never have taken place."

Khrushchev May Ease Stand

Western officials were not ruling out the possibility that Gromyko might take a more compromising line on the crucial access question after consultation with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Khrushchev might be willing to compromise in order to get President Eisenhower to meet him at the summit.

Gromyko, who is in close touch with Khrushchev by courier and cable, has given up plans to meet the Premier face-to-face over the weekend, Soviet sources said.

It was Khrushchev's threat last November, to transfer to the East Germans Soviet controls over the Western lifelines, that precipitated the current Berlin crisis.

Adenauer Will Keep Top Post

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has decided to remain chancellor of West Germany instead of running for president, a party chief announced Thursday night.

Will Rasner, chief whip of Adenauer's Christian Democrats, told reporters that Adenauer had informed the party floor leader, Heinrich Krone, that he no longer wanted to run for president.

Close associates of the 83-year-old Chancellor said he has changed his mind about the presidency because he believes the international situation requires him to remain in direct control of the government.

It is expected that Adenauer will tell his party about his change of mind at an emergency meeting of the parliamentary faction Friday morning.

Adenauer originally accepted his party's nomination as presidential candidate with the explanation that he was ensuring a smooth continuation of his policy.

But it has been anything but smooth since, as his party has been split over the succession.

Khrushchev Stops Off In Budapest

BUDAPEST, Hungary (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev arrived Thursday for an informal "visit of friendship" on his way back to Moscow from Albania.

But soon after his arrival, Khrushchev spent three hours discussing questions of "mutual interest" with Hungarian Communist party and government leaders, according to unofficial Hungarian government sources.

Mice Plunge To Fiery Death In Space Capsule

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. — (UPI) — America's four "moon mice" plunged to a fiery death within minutes after being fired toward space aboard the Discoverer III satellite, the Air Force said Thursday.

The tiny rocket passengers, blasted aloft here Wednesday in an experiment aimed at the world's first recovery of animals alive from a satellite, never entered orbit.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA), said all available data indicated the satellite burned up in the heat of reentering the atmosphere several thousand miles south of here.

The 1600-pound "Mousenik" apparently reached satellite speed of 18,000 miles an hour and proper height of at least 140 miles above the earth. But it did not have the proper angle of travel to enter the planned polar orbit.

Johnson's statement said scientists were investigating the possibility "that the injection (into orbit) angle of the vehicle was improper, causing it to reenter the atmosphere."

Data was received that the four plump, black mice were alive and apparently in good condition during the period of blastoff, the period of "weightlessness" in space and during the time the satellite rocket engine fired to put it into orbit.

After that, no data was received and it appeared certain the "life capsule" carrying the four little space pioneers turned into a mere teor of death.

Segregation In Ga. Schools Up For Trial

ATLANTA (UPI) — A new and highly-significant phase of the dispute over desegregation of public schools will be aired in federal court here Friday.

In the first major assault against the segregation barriers in Georgia public schools a group of 10 Negro parents will ask a declaratory judgment against the operation of separate but equal schools in the city of Atlanta.

Two veteran federal jurists will hear the non-jury trial. Local opinion was practically unanimous that a ruling would be handed down declaring that segregated practices in the school are unconstitutional under the 1954 Supreme Court school decision.

In previous cases, of a similar nature, the two judges—Boyd Sloan and Frank Hooper—have held that they are bound by the mandate of the high court.

Plaintiffs are coming to court without asking for the desegregation of a particular school. They want only to have established that the manner in which the entire city school system is operated is in violation of the constitution. On this premise they are expected to rest their whole case.

German Who Fled POW Camp Must Leave U.S.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Kurt Franz Rossmeisl learned Thursday he must leave the United States—the country he adopted illegally. He agreed to go of his own accord.

But the onetime German army officer who escaped from a prisoner of war camp said he doesn't want to get far from America.

"I hope to go to Mexico," he said, "and go to the nearest American consulate and apply for an American visa."

Milton V. Milich, hearing officer for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, ruled Rossmeisl is in this country illegally because he has no valid visa.

He also has no passport. That is his big worry right now.

Milich said Rossmeisl's only option is to leave the country voluntarily. Otherwise, he must be deported.

Rossmeisl said he asked the German Embassy at Washington to help him get a passport.

His original home was in Austria-Hungary. It was later absorbed by Czechoslovakia. Then Germany, under Hitler, annexed it as part of the Sudetenland. Now is is under Czech rule again.

A spokesman for the Immigration Service said Rossmeisl probably will be given 30 days to get his affairs in order before leaving the country, and more time if he needs it.

Rossmeisl, now 53 and balding, is hampered by arthritis.

He had no money when he turned himself in to the FBI here May 10. He said Thursday he has sold the rights to his life story and now has some money.

A master of nine languages, he was a linguist with Rommel's Afrika Korps when he was captured in 1943.

Rossmeisl came here from Chicago, where he quietly, anonymously had spent 14 years after escaping from a North Carolina POW camp in August 1945.

Reid Confirmed As Israel Envoy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate confirmed Ogden R. Reid as U. S. ambassador to Israel Thursday despite charges by Chairman J. William Fullbright of the Foreign Relations Committee that such action would be "improvident and irresponsible."

Approval of the 33-year-old Republican came by voice vote with surprising swiftness after days of waiting for his nomination to be brought up. The actual debate lasted only an hour.

In contrast to Fulbright's biting criticism, Reid was supported by a number of other Democrats and Republicans who said he was fully qualified for the Middle East diplomatic assignment.

The Reid nomination came before the Senate after it had confirmed Deputy Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates, two other Pentagon officials, and the appointment of George M. Johnson, Negro law leader, as a member of the Civil Rights Commission.

Elvis Presley Won't Lose His Tonsils

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) —U.S. Army doctors eased the apprehension of the rock 'n' roll set Thursday.

They said the teen-agers' idol, Specialist 4-C Elvis Presley, would not have to undergo an operation for tonsilitis and thus risk a change in voice.

Army spokesmen said Presley, admitted to the military hospital here Wednesday, was suffering from a throat infection as well as tonsilitis, but doctors decided that an operation was not necessary now.

The spokesmen added, however, that if the singer's tonsils did not react to treatment the question of removing them would have to be reconsidered.

Tawes Returns, Plunges Into Busy Schedule

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes returned from Europe Thursday and was off on the first of a series of speaking engagements almost at once.

The governor addressed the Baltimore Methodist Conference at Westminster Thursday night. He will make commencement addresses at Frostburg State Teachers College Friday and at the University of Maryland on Saturday, and he will participate in graduation exercises at Washington College on Sunday.

Tawes had these observations to make in a brief talk with newsmen:

1. He was highly impressed with the University of Maryland's overseas education program, the graduation exercises of which he participated in at Heidelberg.

2. He has not had a chance to give official approval to the election of Dr. H. C. (Curly) Byrd as chairman of the reorganized Tidewater Fisheries Commission, but he will "certainly" do so.

3. He plans action soon on a sizable list of important state appointments still to be filled. Among the vacant posts are those on the new Economic Development Commission.

He sees no reason to change his mind on the selection of an Anne Arundel County site for the new Department of Motor Vehicles.

The State Board of Public Works voted recently to move the department from its overcrowded building in Baltimore to a location on Ritchie Highway in northern Anne Arundel County.

Since the decision was announced, various Baltimore groups have urged the board to reconsider and place the new quarters elsewhere in the city.

In another development, Allegany County Thursday threw its hat into the ring.

The governor received a letter from the Board of Allegany County Commissioners urging the state to reconsider its decision and approve a site in Allegany.

"Since the majority of the business of the department is done by mail" the letter said, "the Allegany location would not impose any greater hardship upon the residents of the city of Baltimore and surrounding counties than is now borne by the resident of the other counties."

"Personally, I don't see how we could break faith with these people (the owners of the Anne Arundel site)," said Tawes.

Hawaii became a territory of the United States on June 14, 1900.

More Fire And Brimstone Preaching Tawes' Remedy

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Gov. Tawes said Thursday night that a little fire and brimstone preaching like that of the early Methodist evangelists might shock modern man out of his materialism.

"The evil of our era . . . is its uncertainty and its instability," the governor said. "It has been called, among other things, 'the age of anxiety.'

"If the root of our illness lies in materialism, false values and want of aim, then the remedy should be easy to prescribe.

"We can cast out materialism and replace it with things of the spirit. We can substitute true values for spurious ones. We can set our minds on worthwhile goals and direct our efforts toward their achievement," the governor told the Baltimore Methodist Conference.

"But simple prescription, unfortunately is not enough," he said. "Men, somehow, must be brought to understand, in their own souls, that spiritual values are higher than material values and that if they move through life aimlessly they are headed for chaos."

"Maybe we need more of the kind of preaching and exhorting that were practiced by our Methodist forbearers to inject these plain truths into the minds of people. Maybe a little fire and brimstone would shock us into a realization of the error of our ways."

The governor's remarks were prepared for delivery as the conference ended its second day at Western Maryland College. It will continue through Sunday.

Iran Building "Human Curtain" Against Red Encroachment

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—"We can build something stronger than the Iron Curtain, stronger even than the northern tier," an Iranian official says.

Something close to a crash program, enthusiastically supported by United States technical know-how, is under way in Iran to build a human curtain against Communist encroachment from the Soviet Union.

About 80 per cent of Iran's population is agricultural. Thus the peasants by far are the biggest social class. With their cooperation, Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi hopes to build the beginnings of that human curtain with his crown lands reform program.

Linked with the Shah's plan is what Harry A. Brenn, U.S. Point Four director here, calls an impact program concentrating on projects which meet the immediate needs of Iran's peasantry, yet tied to long-range planning.

In 1949 the Shah decreed the gradual, planned distribution of more than a million acres of royal land holdings among tenant farmers. Much of this land is in the north in the lush green area of the Caspian Sea and bordering Soviet Turkestan.

Political trouble interfered with the program. Until the violent nationalist premier, Mohammed Mossadegh, was overthrown half a dozen years ago, lands in only two villages in the north had been distributed.

The Tudeh — Communist—party, then powerfully organized in Iran, took strong action against the program. But the peasants, staunch conservatives and pious Moslems, turned the Communists back.

Mossadegh now lives in quiet retirement and under a form of house arrest at his villa in Tehran. As the violence subsided, the crown lands program got under way.

Now, more than 21,000 peasant families have received more than 700,000 acres in the north. Distribution will continue for three years.

"The Iron Curtain can be penetrated," one official commented. "But to remove this human curtain, you would have to kill the peasants. The Russians have been infuriated by this. It will create a class of small landowners trained in the sacred Koran since birth and so eager to keep what they have gained that they will kill for it."

A bank for agricultural development, its initial capital coming from the Shah, collects payment for the land in installments over 25 years. The money is lent back to the peasants for soil preparation, purchase of machinery, development of marketing and operating cooperatives and other purposes.

The installments are less by far than the farmers had paid in rent as tenants. Peasants affected by the program find themselves with extra money for the first time.

The effects are being felt daily in bigger demand from these farmers for goods — things like refrigerators and radios. Many are educating their sons — even their daughters. Some even are sending their boys abroad to study. In a nation 80 per cent illiterate, these are important trends.

Point Four people are working vigorously on a program to improve agriculture throughout Iran. Already the American program has had a tremendous impact among the Kurds, biggest of Iran's tribal minorities and long the targets for separatist propaganda from Moscow.

The help American technicians gave the Kurds moved one of their leaders recently to swear that his mounted tribesmen would fight anybody who interfered with the Americans.

Point Four advisers have 115 farm cooperatives working in Iran. Their big problems are to persuade farmers to adopt efficient management methods, to install operating, credit and marketing cooperatives and to adopt such measures as will permit small landholders to compete with big ones in the Tehran market.

Drug Makes Cataract Operations Easier

CHICAGO (AP)—A drug firm announced Wednesday a new enzyme substance making operations for cataract of the eye easier and safer has been released to physicians.

Cataracts, growths over the lens of the eye, afflict thousands of persons. The most common type plagues the elderly and impairs or destroys vision.

Armour Pharmaceutical Co. said the drug, Alpha Chymar, has been released to the medical profession after months of tests and operations in cooperation with the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, an organization of eye, ear and nose and throat specialists. Its general chemical name is alpha chymotrypsin.

Alpha Chymar is a pure crystalline substance obtained from cattle pancreas. It is called a proteolitic enzyme, meaning that its function in the body is to digest protein.

When dropped into the eye of a cataract patient, the enzyme softens and weakens the bands which hold the lens of the eye in place.

Scales which not only weigh out but mix ingredients for a batch of cookies, or explosives or cement have been developed.

The spark of enthusiams is catching. How often does it come from you?

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Choose To Enthuse

A wonderful source of natural charm is enthusiasm. When you're enthusiastic, you sparkle, and the glint reflects in others' eyes. Let's talk about rekindling this bright facet of your personality today, in case it has dimmed somewhere along the way.

As a very young girl, you may have checked runaway enthusiasms to appear more grown-up, or even tried a so-what manner hoping to seem sophisticated. A little older, timidity may have held you back, or fear of disagreement. These attitudes are unnecessary and unfortunate, but far worse is to dull the ability to see anything much to be enthusiastic about. You don't deliberately do that — or do you, not so deliberately?

Do you let your thoughts dwell almost exclusively on the drawbacks of your job situation rather than enjoy its advantages? Are you hobbling your once adventurous mind by failing to explore new subjects? Do you face the new, with defenses up, instead of being willing to be impressed or fascinated? Maybe you're not giving yourself a chance to feel enthusiasm, and if it isn't felt, of course there's nothing to show.

It may be high time to shift gears into a whole new set of attitudes, to do something about those deepening ruts. Learn more about the phase of your work which attracts you most, and enthusiasm rises. Tackle new subjects and discover new fields where you shine. You can't help but shine when you talk about them. Go new places, sometimes with new people, ready to enjoy yourself and show it. And attune yourself to the enthusiasms of others, chime in to sustain the pitch.

It really isn't hard to change to brighter outlooks. And you'll express yourself spontaneously when you do. Choose to enthuse—and you'll be a much more attractive person, more deeply endowed with the outgoing quality of charm!

Magazine Seized

PARIS (UPI) — Police Wednesday confiscated the current issue of the extreme right-wing weekly Young Nation which has been bitterly critical of President Charles de Gaulle's Algerian policies.

No official reason was offered for the seizure, which came on the eve of the National Assembly debate on Algeria. The weekly in the past accused de Gaulle of planning to grant political concessions to the Algerian nationalist rebels.

Author of the English national anthem was Dr. Henry Carey, who was born in London about 1696.

Even hopeless hands should be played out by declarer in the vague hope that the opponents may commit an indiscretion. Similarly on the defense, when there is no conceivable way to defeat a contract, if you keep plugging away, a declarer will occasionally defeat himself. Working on that theory, East and West in today's hand defeated a contract that was absolutely ironclad.

Against the very logical contract of four hearts West opened the deuce of clubs. East won with the king. It was quite apparent to East that the contract was "in the bag," but there was no harm in trying. It was clear that declarer did not have very many entries back to his own hand, and to make them fewer East returned the ace of clubs, compelling dummy to ruff.

This gave declarer the impression that East held the king of hearts and was trying to prevent its being picked up on repeated finesses. Declarer thereupon led the nine of hearts and let it ride. West was in no hurry to win the trick and promptly played the deuce. Things were going along smoothly for declarer, who at this point announced to his partner, "We have been robbed." His statement was premature; it would have been more appropriate a few tricks hence. The heart finesse was repeated, and this time West took the trick and shifted to a spade.

It didn't matter now what declarer did. His goose was cooked. If he finessed, East would win with the king and cash the high club. If he went up with the ace and tried to discard his losing club on the third diamond, West would make his small trump good with the king of spades still to be cashed.

Methodists Name Conference Delegates

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church Thursday named six lay delegates to the General Conference next April in Denver.

The conference delegates then began balloting in an effort to select six ministers to attend the General Conference. Later in the day they heard a batch of reports and a speech by Gov. Tawes.

The six lay delegates chosen by the conference are W. Carroll Beatty of Washington, Harry W. Schuh of Baltimore, D. Stewart Patterson of Chevy Chase, Mrs. Wallace Streeter of Washington, Mrs. Stella Werner of Bethesda, and Dr. Hurst Anderson of Washington.

The treasurer's report was to be given by Thelma Skilling of Baltimore, who was named the first woman treasurer in conference history. She succeeds Dr. Emmett Spencer of Baltimore, who held the post until his recent death.

Awards were presented to rural churches at a special dinner Thursday night. The Oakland Methodist Church was named the Baltimore Conference Rural Church of the Year. Special citations went to Mount Gilead Methodist Church in Finksburg and to Bently Springs, Mount Zion and all rural churches in the Maryland Line Charge and to Centre Church in the Baltimore East District.

Some 400 members of the Women's Society for Christian Service met in the afternoon. Every Methodist church in the Baltimore South and Washington East districts were represented 100 per cent.

The five-day conference is being held on the campus of Western Maryland College here and continues through Sunday.

Trio Sues For Boat Explosion Injuries

BALTIMORE (AP) — Three Pennsylvania residents Thursday filed a $47,500 suit in Federal court against the owners of a boat which exploded and burned two of them at Middle River three years ago.

The suit was brought by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Toti and their 10-year-old son Frank Toti Jr. of Belmont Hills, Pa. against A. Wayne Ballard and his wife.

The Toti family were guests of the Ballards on their 40 foot cabin cruiser June 8, 1956, when the explosion and fire occurred.

The Pennsylvania family claimed that the blast was due to the failure to ventilate the boat and rid it of accumulated gasoline fumes.

The suit asked damages of $10,000 and expenses of $2,500 for Frank Toti Jr., $25,000 for Mrs. Toti and $10,000 for her husband and expenses and injuries suffered by his wife.

Rocket Blast Fatal To Youth

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 13-year-old Baltimore boy died Thursday in City Hospitals of injuries suffered when his home-made rocket exploded as he and a friend prepared it for a take-off.

The victim was Francis J. Gostomski, who was injured last Friday. The explosion did not injure the other boy.

State Bar To Admit 92 New Lawyers

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals will admit 92 attorneys to the Maryland bar Friday.

They passed examinations in March.

A total of 94 passed, but 2 are in service and will be unable to attend the swearing-in ceremony.

Judge W. Calvin Chesnut of the U.S. District Court, a special guest of the Maryland court, will welcome the new lawyers at a morning ceremony after Maryland Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert has moved for their admission.

At the afternoon session, Deputy Atty. Gen. Stedman Prescott will move for admission, and Chief Judge Frederick W. Brune will respond for the State court.

J. Lloyd Young, clerk of the appellate court, will administer the oath.

NOTE CRIME INCREASE

LONDON (UPI) — The annual police inspectors report said Thursday crime levels in England and Wales had reached "shocking levels" which would top the record highs of 1949 if the trend continued.

While Dr. Willis Carrier is credited with the invention of modern air conditioning in 1902, Leonardo da Vinci created a water-driven fan to ventilate the boudoir of his patron's wife about 1500 A. D., or some 400 years earlier.

Father Ties Up Sons, Arrested

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 30-year-old father was accused Thursday of having tied two of his young sons to radiators in his basement apartment before going to work.

Under arrest on a charge of cruelty to children was Andrew Clements.

Police said the children, 6 and 4, were treated at District of Columbia General Hospital for bruised and swollen wrists. They said the two — and a 2-year-old son who was not tied — had been without food or water between 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Their plight was discovered when a neighbor called police.

Police said Clements told them his wife deserted him and the children two years ago. He said that until recently another woman had cared for them.

He admitted, police said, that he had tied the boys hands behind their backs with wire and then tied them to radiators. He said he did it to keep them from getting into trouble.

The children were turned over to welfare authorities.

ALL FOR A CAR

SOUTH MOOR, England (UPI) —Tommy Harris, a 22-year-old clerk, was undaunted when Ethel Sams said she would marry him only after he bought a Rolls Royce car. Harris found a 1932 limousine for $114. He and his bride were honeymooning Thursday.

Arson Not Indicated

BALTIMORE (AP) — Fire investigators said Thursday they had uncovered no indication that arsonists set off fires in a lumber yard and a school.

Deputy Chief John S. Knoerlein said, however, arson has not been ruled out as a possible cause of the two blazes, one a four-alarm fire at Kidd and Buckingham Lumber Yard Co. on southwest Baltimore and the other a two-alarm blaze in a junior high school.

NEW--TYPE HOUSING

BLOXWICH, England (UPI) — The first mother-in-law apartments soon will be available in a local public housing project. They provide separate but equal accommodations for an in-law to live with young families.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 30-year-old father was accused Thursday of having tied two of his young sons to radiators in his basement apartment before going to work.

Under arrest on a charge of cruelty to children was Andrew Clements.

Police said the children, 6 and 4, were treated at District of Columbia General Hospital for bruised and swollen wrists. They said the two — and a 2-year-old son who was not tied — had been without food or water between 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Their plight was discovered when a neighbor called police.

Police said Clements told them his wife deserted him and the children two years ago. He said that until recently another woman had cared for them.

He admitted, police said, that he had tied the boys hands behind their backs with wire and then tied them to radiators. He said he did it to keep them from getting into trouble.

The children were turned over to welfare authorities.

ALL FOR A CAR

SOUTH MOOR, England (UPI) —Tommy Harris, a 22-year-old clerk, was undaunted when Ethel Sams said she would marry him only after he bought a Rolls Royce car. Harris found a 1932 limousine for $114. He and his bride were honeymooning Thursday.

Arson Not Indicated

BALTIMORE (AP) — Fire investigators said Thursday they had uncovered no indication that arsonists set off fires in a lumber yard and a school.

Deputy Chief John S. Knoerlein said, however, arson has not been ruled out as a possible cause of the two blazes, one a four-alarm fire at Kidd and Buckingham Lumber Yard Co. on southwest Baltimore and the other a two-alarm blaze in a junior high school.

NEW--TYPE HOUSING

BLOXWICH, England (UPI) — The first mother-in-law apartments soon will be available in a local public housing project. They provide separate but equal accommodations for an in-law to live with young families.

Assessment Setup Outlined

FREDERICK (AP) — County commissioners and local assessment officials from the Western Shore met in Frederick Thursday to hear an explanation of the new property assessment procedure to become effective July 1.

The group represented an area extending from St. Marys County in the south to Garrett County in the west. A similar conference for the Eastern Shore is planned June 11 at Easton.

The speakers were Albert Ward, secretary of the State Tax Commission, and William H. Riley, chief supervisor of assessments. Ward is expected to become director of the new State Department of Assessments and Taxation when the present tax commission is abolished next month.

The commission's functions will be divided between the new department and a tax court of five judges.

The new law places the complete responsibility for assessments in the counties on the supervisors of assessment instead of the county commissioners.

Local taxpayers can demand a hearing before the county commissioners, who also will have the power to review assessments on their own motion.

The new department will enforce a continuing method of assessments so that all assessable property in each county is thoroughly reviewed at least once a year.

Crater-shaped buffalo wallows still scar the plains and prairies of the American west. Formed when 80 million bison roamed the continent, the wallows provided the animals with dust baths in dry weather and mud bath when it rained. Some wallows grew to miles in length.

Man Is Killed When Hit By Car

Briston Milton Tanner, 47, Kingwood, W. Va., was fatally injured Tuesday night when struck by a car while walking along State Route 26, one mile south of Kingwood.

Authorities said Tanner was struck by a Model A Ford being driven by Richard Tichnell, 21, also of Kingwood.

Tanner was pronounced dead on arrival at the Preston Memorial Hospital by Dr. John F. Lehman. Death was attributed to head injuries. This was Preston County's sixth highway fatality for 1959.

Investigation of the accident is being handled by county officers with Freeman Lewis in charge.

Assessment Setup Outlined

FREDERICK (AP) — County commissioners and local assessment officials from the Western Shore met in Frederick Thursday to hear an explanation of the new property assessment procedure to become effective July 1.

The group represented an area extending from St. Marys County in the south to Garrett County in the west. A similar conference for the Eastern Shore is planned June 11 at Easton.

The speakers were Albert Ward, secretary of the State Tax Commission, and William H. Riley, chief supervisor of assessments. Ward is expected to become director of the new State Department of Assessments and Taxation when the present tax commission is abolished next month.

The commission's functions will be divided between the new department and a tax court of five judges.

The new law places the complete responsibility for assessments in the counties on the supervisors of assessment instead of the county commissioners.

Local taxpayers can demand a hearing before the county commissioners, who also will have the power to review assessments on their own motion.

The new department will enforce a continuing method of assessments so that all assessable property in each county is thoroughly reviewed at least once a year.

Crater-shaped buffalo wallows still scar the plains and prairies of the American west. Formed when 80 million bison roamed the continent, the wallows provided the animals with dust baths in dry weather and mud bath when it rained. Some wallows grew to miles in length.

Vandals Breaking New Church Windows

City Police said last night vandals have broken out at least eight windows in the new St. Paul's Lutheran Church structure being built on Washington Street.

The reports of the window breaking have been received by Police Headquarters for several days and police said they believed youngsters playing in nearby fields are responsible.

Youth Missing

Robert Shaffer, 17, of 218 Greene Street, has been reported missing from his home since 9:30 a. m. Wednesday. He is 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighs 130 pounds, has light brown hair and blue eyes. He was last seen wearing a gray sport shirt, dark trousers and black shoes.

W.Va. Methodists Lauded For Fund-Raising Efforts

BUCKHANNON, W. Va. (UPI) — West Virginia's Methodist churches have contributed $221,000 to missonary work in Africa and $885,000 to 20 building campaigns for new churches in the state, it was disclosed Thursday.

Both achievements were lauded during a session of committee reports given at the 114th annual West Virginia Methodist Conference on the campus of West Virginia Wesleyan College.

Dr. Carden A. Hillman, Pt. Pleasant, said throughout the United States West Virginia was being recognized as a leader in the voluntary fund raising program for African missonary work by the church.

Dr. R. Morman Parker, Charleston, executive secretary of the conference, said subscriptions for new church buildings were at a high level despite undesirable economic conditions in the state since the conference a year ago.

The some 1,600 delegates—ministers and lay leaders — attending the five - day conference also heard that ground was now being cleared near Beckley for erection of the church's second children's home.

The initial home established near Burlington has been filled to capacity and a new structure was ordered at last year's conference. Dr. A. Coleman Brown, of Bridgeport, head of the church's hospital and homes committee, made the report.

Other reports were given by Dr. T. Leroy Hooper, Fairmont, executive secretary of the conference's board of education; Dr. Jennings Fast, Parkersburg, and Dr. Stanley H. Martin, president of West Virginia Wesleyan College.

Hooper said 32 leadership training schools on christian education were held during the past year and that student movement work now in progress on six state college campuses.

Fast said a four year development program of $336,000 for a proposed Methodist camp and training center near Spencer would be presented to the conference for consideration next year.

He said 300 acres of the camp would be used for camping, 200 acres for family units, 200 acres for assemblies and 162 acres for retreats and administration.

Martin reported a year of expansion and internal growth at Wesleyan last year. He said there were 942 fulltime students in school and the budget was over $1,000,000, the first time in history. The president said Wesleyan received $700,000 in gifts and grants.

Martin predicted there would be 1,050 fulltime students next term and an increase of the faculty by 10 to 50.

He introduced a proposal for the addition of a graduate school of religion and erection of a new chapel. Martin said plans for the faculties would be presented next year.

Martin concluded his report by asking for approval of a resolution authorizing the Wesleyan Board of Trustees to ask the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency for funds to build a new residence hall for 114 men and for a new wing on Fleming Hall to house 102 more male students. The resolution was approved unanimously.

917 GAY STREET . . . . CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND

An Ambrosial Dessert

This quick-frozen delicacy is a happy medley of red raspberries, luscious boysenberries, sweet and sour cherries, peach slices and tiny white grapes. Serve the mixed fruit as a compote or as a sauce for ice cream or sherbet. For real glamour, mix it with coconut and, if you like, other fruits such as pineapple cubes, orange sections, melon balls.

Mixed Fruit Ambrosia

1 package frozen mixed fruit
½ cup flaked coconut

Remove frozen mixed fruit from carton. Sprinkle coconut over fruit. Let stand at room temperature until just thawed, about 2 hours. Mix lightly and serve. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

A Lunch-Time Treat

For a lunch-time treat, serve a hearty chicken or seafood salad with these pimiento-topped Frosted Biscuits. Blend thoroughly 1 3-ounce package cream cheese, softened, 1 tablespoon milk and 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento. Set aside while preparing biscuit dough. Sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Cut or rub in ¼ cup shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add ⅔ to ¾ cup milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out ½-inch thick. Cut with small (1- or 1½-inch) biscuit cutter. Spread tops of biscuits with cream cheese mixture. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450°F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen small biscuits.

Is a cheese rabbit a family favorite? Make it next time with sharp Cheddar cheese and tangy V-8 juice. All the colorfulness of a spring garden, and flavorfulness of 8 vegetable juices and cheese.

Try Spinach In Salad

Try serving spinach in a different way — cool and fresh in salad, where the flavor of this healthful green can be at its best! Today's recipe combines fresh spinach with crisply crumbled bacon and partially-cooked eggs in a style reminiscent of Caesar's Salad. The delightful dressing made with a salad dressing mix, happily blends the flavors together.

Hearty Spinach salad

1 envelope bleu cheese salad dressing mix
6 cups chopped raw spinach (½ lb.)
6 strips crisp cooked bacon
2 eggs

To make the salad dressing, combine salad dressing mix with vinegar, water, and oil as directed on the envelope or cruet. Measure ⅓ cup.

Place spinach in a bowl. Chop bacon in small pieces. Cook eggs in boiling water for one minute. In a small bowl combine bacon, eggs, and ⅓ cup salad dressing. Pour over spinach, tossing lightly. Makes 6 cups salad, enough for 4 entree salads, or 8 servings side salad.

Week's Food Economies

It is now shad season with the supply abundant and low in cost. In addition there is a nice variety of offerings at the produce counter at attractive prices, says Virginia McLuckie, Food Economist, Baltimore Office, University of Maryland, Department of Markets.

Shad have a peculiar life history. During the greater part of their existence they are inaccessible to the commercial fisheries. Spawned in rivers and streams, the young migrate down stream to salt water. Little is known about their next two or three years of life in the ocean. They return in three or four years as mature adults to spawn in fresh water where they are taken by fishermen. A remarkable change in color tone of shad takes place as it moves in from the sea. While it lives in deep waters it is dark blue and green on its top side. These colors are lost as the shad moves into fresh water, and when seen in the markets it is distinguished by its silvery color and dark spots. Shad as a rule do not die after spawning but return to the sea from which they make repeated annual spawning migrations. Shad is taken all along the east coast from Florida to Nova Scotia. For the past several weeks shad from the Chesapeake has been on the market, but current supplies are abundant and prices are low during the peak season.

Shad is a fat fish which makes it ideal for baking or broiling. It can also be fried. You will find the size to fit your family needs since they are marketed from one to over three pounds. Although shad is the boniest member of the Herring family the fish is thoroughly enjoyed by those who regard the sweet flavor of this tender, white meated fish sufficient compensation for the labor of removing the bones. The problem of eliminating bones can be partially solved by baking in a very slow oven 275°F. for a very long time, 6 to 8 hours, covered, with the addition of several tablespoons of vinegar before cooking. You may purchase the whole fish as roe shad, with or without roe, or buck shad. A number of markets are offering shad fillets and for additional cost the fillets can be purchased boned. The roe is considered quite a delicacy. Handle it carefully so as not to rupture the membrane covering while sauting.

Eggs continue to be attractively priced. There is no better buy to be found than Large Grade A eggs. The high quality protein, vitamins and minerals needed to maintain health are well concentrated into a two ounce package in each large egg. Serve eggs as garnishes and in custards as well as for main dishes.

At the produce counter there is a variety of choices. Maryland grown spinach is the best-buy in green leafy vegetables. Whether you choose fresh spinach from bulk displays or packaged spinach look for crisp, clean, dark green leaves with small tender stems. Try adding shredded raw spinach to your green salad bowl ingredients for a different flavor and texture. Lettuce, celery and cabbage are also on the best-buy list. These three vegetables are excellent salad makings for spring meals. You will find top quality in all three at low prices per saving.

At the fruit counter you will find North Carolina strawberries in greater volume. These berries add color and flavor to salads and desserts. Grapefruit is the best-buy in citrus. Apples remain in good supply and are reasonably priced.

Broiled Shad Roe

First parboil shad roe in boiling salted water to which ½ tablespoon of cider vinegar has been added. Drain. Cover with cold water and let stand 5 minutes. Remove from water. Dry gently with a towel, brush with melted butter and lemon juice or lime juice. Place in a buttered pan about 3 inches under heat and broil for 15 minutes. Then turn and when browned delicately, serve with lemon quarters and browned butter.

Your imagination shows when you dress up frozen prepared beef dinners like this: Turn back aluminum foil cover just enough to expose meat and gravy. Spread with some chopped chutney (with syrup). Seal securely and heat following label directions.

Far East Touch Blends With West On Grill

The backyard barbecue grill has become such a necessary part of warm weather cookery that few outdoor chefs ever seem to have enough suitable recipes. In fact, before the season begins in earnest, many fans begin assembling "foods to try" on the grill.

Luckily, the "grill" cook nowadays can provide virtually as much menu variety out of doors as he can on the kitchen range. In an effort to avoid menu monotony in recent years, many are experimenting with a wide variety of foreign dishes.

Some of the most ingenious are those prepared with an Oriental flair. Many dishes based upon the now-popular Chinese theme, have been adapted to the barbecue grill with taste-tempting results.

Here, for example, is a chicken recipe which depends upon a zesty soy barbecue sauce for flavor.

Soy Barbecued Chicken Breasts

Mix ¼ cup light vinegar, ¼ cup lemon juice, and ¼ cup salad oil. Add 1 teaspoon soy sauce, ⅛ teaspoon brown gravy sauce, and a sprinkling of ground black pepper. Blend mixture well. Lay chicken breasts on hot grill. Brush pieces with oil and sear about 3 minutes. Turn chicken over and brush on sauce. Cook 3 to 4 minutes. Turn and baste again with sauce. Continue to turn and baste chicken with soy sauce mixture until chicken is tender, approximately 25 minutes.

To accompany the chicken you might try this unusual coleslaw addition of a generous amount of bean sprouts which lends delicate flavor to the crisp salad.

Bean Sprout Coleslaw

(Six Servings)

Combine 4 cups finely shredded cabbage, 1 cup drained bean sprouts and ¼ cup chopped pimiento. Mix with following dressing:

Tangy Dressing

Combine 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, ½ teaspoon celery seed and 2 tablespoons sugar. Add ⅓ cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon soy sauce and 1 cup buttermilk. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until thickened. Cover and cook 10 minutes longer. Chill.

Here's a new luncheon idea for a drop-in guest or children home from school. Brown 2 ounces thinly sliced dried beef (which has been rinsed with hot water) in butter. Add a 10¼-ounce can of frozen condensed cream of potato soup and equal amount of milk. Heat, stirring often.

Strawberry Cake Treat

Bring out Strawberry Shortcake for dessert, then sit back and enjoy the smiles and compliments. The base of this dessert is a lovely, light, lemon-flavored cake, baked in a square pan. Squares are split to accommodate two layers of luscious berries.

Whip cream until thick and shiny, sweeten, if desired. Spread strawberries generously between layers and on top of cake. Garnish with whipped cream and whole berries. Makes 9 servings.

Fresh Strawberry Shortcake

- 2½ cups sifted cake flour
- 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1½ cups sugar
- ½ cup shortening (at room temperature)
- 1 cup milk
- 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
- 2 eggs, unbeaten
- 1 cup heavy cream
- 2 quarts fresh strawberries, sliced and sweetened

Measure sifted flour into sifter; add baking powder, salt, and sugar.

Stir shortening in mixing bowl just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add ¾ cup of the milk and mix until all flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes at a low speed of electric mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand.

Add rind, eggs, and remaining milk and beat 1 minute longer in mixer or 150 strokes by hand.

Pour batter into 9x9x2-inch square pan, which has been lined on bottom with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 45 to 50 minutes. Cool; then split to make two thin layers.

Strawberry Ambrosia

Perhaps the most distinguished of strawberry desserts is the simplest. Pour two tablespoons of sweet oloroso sherry over each serving of strawberries, and top with whipped cream into which a quarter cup of the oloroso has been beaten. Serve with glasses of this most famous type of Spanish sherry.

Here's Fast Food Menu For Busy Cleaning Day

Spring cleanup projects no longer are as arduous as they once were, thanks to the time-saving equipment we now have. Still there are busy days when a homemaker finds it necessary to spend less time on dinner preparations, yet come up with a substantial meal.

Here's a menu plan, featuring a hearty casserole.

One Hour Dinner

Beef and Bean Rarebit Casserole
Asparagus Tips
Buttered Toast
Lettuce Wedges
French Dressing
Ice Cream Pie

Beef and Bean Rarebit: Chop ½ small onion and ½ small green pepper. Cook in 2 tablespoons butter until tender. Add 2½ cups kidney beans, 2 tablespoons catsup, salt and pepper to taste. Alternate layers of the dried beef and 2 cups grated dried beef and 2 cut grated natural cheddar cheese in a buttered quart casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Serve over buttered toast.

While casserole is baking, prepare the ice cream pie. In addition to a few staples, it requires only a package of chocolate wafer cookies and 2 pints of ice cream.

Pie: Combine 1¼ cups chocolate wafer crumbs with 2 tablespoons granulated sugar. Add ¼ cup melted butter and mix thoroughly. Press firmly into a buttered 9-inch pie pan and freeze until firm. Fill shell with orange blossom ice cream. Sprinkle with additional cooky crumbs and serve immediately.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"I've never been so humiliated in my life! The way you talked, he must be sure we're paupers!"

Meat Loaf A Family Favorite

It won't be long until you'll be putting some of those heartier menu ideas featuring meats in the back of the recipe file to make way for the lighter type meat salads and picnic fare.

However, there are a few weeks left in which to enjoy one standard family favorite . . . .

This meat loaf suggestion involves the purchase of two pounds of ground beef. In addition, the other ingredients include a host of familiar seasonings. The one new idea is the inclusion of tomato pieces. The tomatoes are cut into 1-inch pieces and placed right in the meat loaf mixture. Using a standard 5 x 9-inch loaf pan, the loaf is baked in a slow oven (300° F.) for 1½ to 1¾ hours.

Beef and Tomato Loaf

2 pounds ground beef
⅓ cup milk
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
1 medium onion, chopped
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 eggs, beaten
3 firm medium-size tomatoes, cut in 1-inch pieces.

Add ground beef, onion, green pepper, salt, pepper, horseradish, Worcestershire sauce and eggs. Mix thoroughly. Add tomato pieces and mix lightly. Pack in a 5 x 9-inch loaf pan. Bake in a slow oven (300° F.) for 1½ to 1¾ hours. Yield: 8 servings.

Fresh Rhubarb Pie

This is the time to make the most of rhubarb. Whether those rosy stalks are hot house grown or from your own patch in the garden, a fresh Rhubarb Pie is one of the nicest ways to welcome spring. For your first Rhubarb Pie of the season, try this one featuring enriched corn meal in the crust to give it an extra special crunchy texture.

Fresh Rhubarb Pie
Makes one 9-inch pie.

Filling:
1 cup sugar
5 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon salt
5 cups fresh rhubarb, cut in 1-inch pieces

Crust:
1½ cups sifted enriched flour
½ cup enriched corn meal
½ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup shortening
6 to 7 tablespoons cold water
1 teaspoon sugar

Heat oven to hot (400°F.). For filling, mix sugar, cornstarch and salt. (May use 1¼ cups sugar if rhubarb is exceptionally tart.) Sprinkle over rhubarb; toss lightly to mix.

For pie crust, sift together flour, corn meal and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add water, a tablespoon at a time, stirring lightly until pastry can be formed into ball. Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas; let stand about 5 minutes. Divide dough into two parts; roll one part to form 12-inch circle; fit loosely into 9-inch pie plate. Add rhubarb filling. Roll out other dough for top crust slightly larger than pie plate. Make slits in pastry to permit escape of steam. Moisten edge of lower crust. Place top crust over filling. Fold edge of top crust under bottom crust; flute to seal. Sprinkle sugar over crust. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) 45 to 50 minutes.

Statehood for Hawaii means Key West, Fla., will lose its boast of being the southernmost U. S. point. It will be Kalae Point, on the tip of Hawaii ("the big") island.

Dairy Sour Cream Easy Salad Topping

The dressing's the star in many a salad meal. So when you plan a special salad, make the dressing special too. Whether your salad choice is fresh fruits or crisp greens, dairy sour cream makes a perfect base for a wide variety of salad dressings. Seasonings may be varied to suit the salad, then folded into the creamy base with just a few strikes. There's no cooking necessary, and no last minute shaking either. Your salad dressing is ready in just a jiffy.

Here are two easy-to-make sour cream salad dressings. The first is a perfect topping for fruit salads: lightly flavored with orange and lemon, sweetened with honey and spiced with mustard. The second is an excellent choice for a tossed green salad: a tart dressing generously blended with blue cheese.

Sour Cream Fruit Salad Dressing

1 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 tablespoons orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon honey
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 cup dairy sour cream

Blend all ingredients except sour cream. Fold into dairy sour cream. Chill thoroughly before servings. Serve with fruit salads. Makes about 1¼ cups dressing.

Sour Cream, Cheese Dressing

3 ounces Blue cheese
1 teaspoon garlic salt
½ cup salad oil
¼ cup vinegar
1 cup dairy sour cream

Mash blue cheese with a fork; blend with garlic salt. Beat into oil and vinegar. Fold in dairy sour cream. Cover and chill. Serve on tossed greens. Makes 2 cups dressing.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"I've never been so humiliated in my life! The way you talked, he must be sure we're paupers!"

Meat Loaf A Family Favorite

It won't be long until you'll be putting some of those heartier menu ideas featuring meats in the back of the recipe file to make way for the lighter type meat salads and picnic fare.

However, there are a few weeks left in which to enjoy one standard family favorite . . . .

This meat loaf suggestion involves the purchase of two pounds of ground beef. In addition, the other ingredients include a host of familiar seasonings. The one new idea is the inclusion of tomato pieces. The tomatoes are cut into 1-inch pieces and placed right in the meat loaf mixture. Using a standard 5 x 9-inch loaf pan, the loaf is baked in a slow oven (300° F.) for 1½ to 1¾ hours.

Beef and Tomato Loaf

2 pounds ground beef
⅓ cup milk
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
1 medium onion, chopped
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 eggs, beaten
3 firm medium-size tomatoes, cut in 1-inch pieces.

Add ground beef, onion, green pepper, salt, pepper, horseradish, Worcestershire sauce and eggs. Mix thoroughly. Add tomato pieces and mix lightly. Pack in a 5 x 9-inch loaf pan. Bake in a slow oven (300° F.) for 1½ to 1¾ hours. Yield: 8 servings.

Fresh Rhubarb Pie

This is the time to make the most of rhubarb. Whether those rosy stalks are hot house grown or from your own patch in the garden, a fresh Rhubarb Pie is one of the nicest ways to welcome spring. For your first Rhubarb Pie of the season, try this one featuring enriched corn meal in the crust to give it an extra special crunchy texture.

Fresh Rhubarb Pie

Makes one 9-inch pie.

Filling:

1 cup sugar
5 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon salt
5 cups fresh rhubarb, cut in 1-inch pieces

Crust:

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
½ cup enriched corn meal
½ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup shortening
6 to 7 tablespoons cold water
1 teaspoon sugar

Heat oven to hot (400°F.). For filling, mix sugar, cornstarch and salt. (May use 1¼ cups sugar if rhubarb is exceptionally tart.) Sprinkle over rhubarb; toss lightly to mix.

For pie crust, sift together flour, corn meal and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add water, a tablespoon at a time, stirring lightly until pastry can be formed into ball. Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas; let stand about 5 minutes. Divide dough into two parts; roll one part to form 12-inch circle; fit loosely into 9-inch pie plate. Add rhubarb filling. Roll out other dough for top crust slightly larger than pie plate. Make slits in pastry to permit escape of steam. Moisten edge of lower crust. Place top crust over filling. Fold edge of top crust under bottom crust; flute to seal. Sprinkle sugar over crust. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) 45 to 50 minutes.

Statehood for Hawaii means Key West, Fla., will lose its boast of being the southernmost U. S. point. It will be Kalae Point, on the tip of Hawaii ("the big") island.

Dairy Sour Cream Easy Salad Topping

The dressing's the star in many a salad meal. So when you plan a special salad, make the dressing special too. Whether your salad choice is fresh fruits or crisp greens, dairy sour cream makes a perfect base for a wide variety of salad dressings. Seasonings may be varied to suit the salad, then folded into the creamy base with just a few strikes. There's no cooking necessary, and no last minute shaking either. Your salad dressing is ready in just a jiffy.

Here are two easy-to-make sour cream salad dressings. The first is a perfect topping for fruit salads: lightly flavored with orange and lemon, sweetened with honey and spiced with mustard. The second is an excellent choice for a tossed green salad: a tart dressing generously blended with blue cheese.

Sour Cream Fruit Salad Dressing

1 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 tablespoons orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon honey
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 cup dairy sour cream

Blend all ingredients except sour cream. Fold into dairy sour cream. Chill thoroughly before servings. Serve with fruit salads. Makes about 1¼ cups dressing.

Sour Cream, Cheese Dressing

3 ounces Blue cheese
1 teaspoon garlic salt
½ cup salad oil
¼ cup vinegar
1 cup dairy sour cream

Able Official, An Able Successor

It has been less than two years since the space age began in earnest, after the launching of Russia's first sputnik, and one of the men who has been most influential in guiding U. S. efforts along the hard road created by the head start of the Soviet Union is leaving his government post with the sincere regrets of the public he has served well.

Dr. James R. Killian Jr. came to the newly created post of Special Assistant to the President for Science and Technology well equipped to handle the difficult task of getting the United States space program off the drawing board and into the air. It is apparent from the amazing progress the U. S. has made in this direction in the intervening short period that Dr. Killian and the dedicated scientific group he heads have performed their assignments well.

Dr. Killian's departure from the government to return to MIT in July will be noted with unanimous regret by all who have become familiar with his work, but the void his absence creates will be adequately filled by his successor, George B. Kistiakowsky. Professor Kistiakowsky, now a member of the Harvard University faculty, is another man particularly qualified for the nation's number one science post.

Recognized as one of the world's leading experts in chemistry, particularly explosives, Professor Kistiakowsky is also credited with a major part in the design and manufacture of the first atomic bomb. His technical knowledge is supplemented by an acute understanding of his country's greatest enemy. He was born in Russia and fought against the bolsheviks during the years 1918-20. He was naturalized as an American citizen shortly after coming to the U. S. in 1926.

Only the eminently qualified replacement who will take up the reins laid down by Dr. Killian softens the loss as the nation's first spaceman retires.

Nixon And Gromyko Find They're Often Mistaken For Each Other

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Richard M. Nixon, who shot up to the second political post in the nation in a relatively short period of time, sat not far from Andrei Gromyko, who shot up to the important post of Foreign Minister of Soviet Russia also in a short period of time.

They were at the foreign ministers' luncheon given by President Eisenhower after the Dulles funeral.

"Mr. Gromyko," said the Vice President pleasantly, "I am sometimes mistaken for you. Traveling abroad they sometimes think I am the Foreign Minister of the Soviet Union."

"And I," replied Gromyko, "am sometimes mistaken for you. They say there goes Vice President Nixon."

Note — It's been a long time since Nixon defeated Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas for the Senate in California on the charge that she followed the Communist line in Congress.

Strauss Nose-Count

Even before the long and painstaking hearings on Adm. Lewis Strauss had been published, most Senators had made up their minds on how they would vote. Many had purely personal reasons entirely unconnected with the dynamite-laden record.

Here are some of the Senators who have made up their minds and some who haven't, plus their background motives:

Sen. Stuart Symington, Missouri — Wavering. He confides: "Admiral Strauss is a social friend. It would be embarrassing not to vote for him."

Sen. Richard Neuberger, Oregon — Wavering. "He's a personal friend of my family."

Sen. Willis Robertson, Virginia — For. The dominating Senator from Virginia, Harry Byrd, has set the line for Strauss, and Robertson always follows Byrd.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, West Virginia — Wavering. He used to be vice president of Capital Airlines which has transportation problems before the government. Secretary of Commerce Strauss is now trying to bring the whole field of transportation under his authority. Randolph denies, however, that this influences his position.

Sen. Albert Gore, Tennessee — For. His great friend and political benefactor, Bernard Baruch, is for Strauss. Albert votes with Baruch.

Sen. Jack Kennedy — Wavering. Jack doesn't say so, but in the back of his mind is the possibility that if he becomes president he will have confirmation troubles too. On the other hand, his fellow Catholic, colleague Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, has warned that any presidential hopeful who votes for Strauss will stamp himself as a tight-control president not likely to cooperate with Congress.

Sen. Bob Kerr, Oklahoma — For. Intimate friend of Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico who would usually support Anderson in his battle against Strauss. However, Kerr wanted Senator Anderson to support him on an amendment to the insurance law benefiting Texas and Oklahoma insurance companies. Anderson refused. Since then, Kerr has been buttonholing votes for Strauss against his old friend.

Onetime Oil Friend

Price Daniel of Texas was considered a dyed-in-the-wool champion of the oil and gas companies when he served in the U. S. Senate from Texas. With Daniel back in Texas today as governor, however, the oil and gas companies are fuming and sputtering against their onetime friend.

What Governor Daniel has done is demand that the big pipeline companies pay their share of the tax load for the state of Texas.

Compared with the pipeline companies of Louisiana, the Texas pipeline moguls get off with a mere tax slap on the wrist. If they paid taxes at the same rate as in Louisiana, Texas would have a hundred million dollars surplus in its treasury.

However, Daniel's former gas and oil friends are now yelling "traitor," especially Tennessee Gas Transmission, El Paso Natural Gas, and Herman and George Brown of Texas Eastern. The latter are special friends of Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

Before Daniel was elected to the U. S. Senate he staged a famous battle against a sales tax proposed by the then Governor "Pappy" O'Daniel. It was Price who led the "immortal 56" legislators in demanding higher taxes on big business, not higher taxes on the consumer. He won.

Today as governor he is equally embattled with his own legislature, much to the great displeasure of the pipeline industry.

Washington Pipeline

Cleveland voters have been sending Sen. Steve Young, of Ohio, Joe Newman's "Father Goose" rhyme. It reads: "Said Senator Young (and he wins our applause), while straining at Adams, why swallow Strauss? Never were words more courageously flung, but such are the things that you do when you are Young.". . . . . Sen. Thurston Morton, the new Republican chairman, asked Ike to let him attend future Cabinet meetings. Morton argued that the GOP should have a voice in policy decisions affecting 1960. Ike was hesitant. . . . Morton had better luck when he invited the administrative assistants of 11 Senators who face re-election next year. They were not hesitant. He fed them sandwiches and Coca-Cola — no bourbon — though Morton comes from the bourbon state.

British Politicians 'Mess Up' Geneva Talks

By David Lawrence

LONDON—Suddenly and with no apparent reason except domestic politics, the infuence at the Geneva conference hitherto wielded so skillfully by Selwyn Lloyd, the British Foreign Secretary, has been torpedoed.

Seldom has there been such a vivid illustration of how, with the best intentions, a political maneuver, designed to ease the way for the promotion of a man to a higher post, can turn out to be a faux pas.

For, whatever may have been the motive—and it probably had to do with preparing the way to remove some of the handicaps the conservatives face in their general election to be held soon—the net result was to throw a monkey wrench into the wheels of international diplomacy at a critical moment.

To announce that one of the Big Four ministers is on the way out is to say, in efefct, that there is something wrong with his performance as a Foreign Secretary. The London "Times," which published the first article, had a "scoop" on Monday morning, but the information wasn't presented in a simple news article with even anonymous attribution of the sources. The story was made up of speculative comments such as are usually found on the editorial page. It said in part:

"We may safely accept that Mr. Macmillan has lately taken Mr. Selwyn Lloyd's arm in paternal grip, led him to one side, and spoken from the heart. Call it the personal advice a leader offers to a favoured lieutenant, or call it the first unmistakable hint about the Prime Minister's intentions if he is summoned to form another ministry after the general election—it makes no difference. What matters is that Mr. Macmillan has let Mr. Lloyd know that at the Foreign Office, in these troubled times, enough is enough."

The article went on to say that Mr. Lloyd has done well but that continuance in the Foreign Office might sap his health. It then adds:

"But the transportation of Mr. Selwyn Lloyd to another departmental office is clearly still several months ahead."

Then, it might be asked, what was the purpose of the obviously inspired story, particularly at this time when the Foreign Secretary of Great Britain is approaching the most critical week in the foreign ministers conference at Geneva? Is it possible that those who were so absorbed in domestic politics chose to ignore the obvious effects internationally, or did they just forget about them as politicians sometimes do when they move unswervingly toward their goal in a politics-above-all-else tactic?

The feeling here is that some timid elements in the Conservative Party, looking ahead to a close election, had considered that Mr. Lloyd's previous association with the Eden regime — when the tragic Suez episode occurred — could lose votes for the incumbent party and that hence a change would be salutary.

But even conceding the desirability of presenting a strong front in the elections, why was the story given such prominence, and did the "Times" perhaps overplay a piece of political gossip that never was intended to affect Mr. Lloyd's present position at Geneva?

Unfortunately, the Soviets will have no difficulty putting an interpretation on the whole affair that will suit their purposes. They will take it for granted that Mr. Lloyd was "too tough" to suit Mr. Macmillan and too harmonious with the viewpoints of the French and American envoys, and that this development represents a retreat by the British and a split in the unity hitherto presented. The Soviets will say Mr. Macmillan is at odds with the other Western leaders.

Denials have been issued already to counter such misconceptions, but a foreign minister who is, for any reason, on the way out doesn't have the influence that he otherwise exercises when he has the full confidence of his superiors. Mr. Lloyd has done a superb job in Geneva. It's too bad somebody bungled and cut the ground from under him when he most needed unequivocal support. But the ways of politicians are devious, and they haven't yet learned how to keep from messing up foreign affairs in the middle of delicate negotiations with a dangerous adversary.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

One large factor behind White House considerations on a summit meeting is Soviet behavior at the long drawn-out Geneva talks seeking an agreement to ban atomic bomb testing.

The discussions have been going on for more than six months, and have been on the verge of collapse most of that time. They were preceded by a Soviet pledge t stop testing, which the Russians broke unilaterally.

In the whole field of banning atomic testing and in all the discussion about the seriousness of atomic "fallout," the Russian position has been viewed with the utmost suspicion by United States experts.

Mr. Eisenhower and his advisors are almost completely convinced that the Soviet position lacks sincerity and that the entire subject is being used by them in their "warmongering" propaganda campaign against the United States.

For this reason, Mr. Eisenhower has dispatched several personal letters to Nikita Khrushchev, making compromise proposals in an effort to meet Soviet objections and still preserve a workable international inspection system.

If no affirmative progress has been made in the test-ban talks by this summer, it will be another powerful argument for Mr. Eisenhower to skip the summit meeting.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The subject of newspaper leads has always been an interesting one to me. This is especially true of such stories that lend themselves to bright writing. Recently, Ray Erwin, a columnist on Editor & Publisher, has been publishing famous leads. He has some pretty good ones.

The most renowned is the one Grantland Rice wrote after a Notre Dame game of the 1920s, when he said that ". . . the four horsemen ride the evening sky." Another one, quoted by Fred Russell of the Nashville Banner, was written by Harry Williams a long time ago: "Mr. Arthur Summers Sutherland pitched his initials off yesterday, but the Los Angeles nine again went down to defeat 1 to 0."

Jack Lait had a sharp eye for good leads and good titles for books too. He was editor of the New York Mirror, chewing interminably on his own gums, and he told me that he was thinking of writing his memoirs. I asked him if he had a title for it. He said: "It will be called Lead to Come."

The same man, as a reporter on The Chicago Herald Examiner, heard that Harry K. Thaw had escaped from an insane asylum in New York and was said to be in the Chicago area. Lait used his contacts to find Thaw, and had an interview with him. The lead of his story was simple: "Harry K. Thaw arrived in Chicago yesterday brown as a nut."

Fritz Howell, according to Erwin, covered a wrestling match in which a butter belly named Ali Baba was lifted by his opponent and tossed on his head out of the ring onto the concrete floor. Howell's lead was: "Stars fell on Ali Baba last night."

John McNulty had a left-handed sense of humor, and he had the gift of making much out of nothing. He was in a little place called Martinsville, West Virginia when a real live motion picture company arrived to make a picture called Show Boat. Jack's lead was typical: "Some day the Archbishop of Canterbury may ride down the main street of Martinsville on the front seat of a two-seater bicycle, with Gilda Gray on the back seat, and singing 'Yes sir, she's my baby,' but Martinsville won't be any more excited than it is today."

On St. Valentine's Day in 1929, seven gangsters were lined against a garage wall in Chicago and machine-gunned to death.

The leads that night were of varying impact in the several newspapers, but Arthur Turney, of the Herald-Examiner, wrote the one that is remembered: "Chicago gangsters graduated yesterday from murder to massacre."

The one that remains with me was written by James Whittaker on The Mirror. It was 1931, and the city editor, George Clarke, had a tip that a rich girl named Doris Duke was about to become engaged to a New York State Assemblyman named Michael Quinn. He asked Whittaker to run it down by phone.

The rewrite man got the clips on Doris Duke and Mr. Quinn and discovered that neither was well known, although there was a little information to the effect that Miss Duke was wealthy. He found very little about Quinn except that he was a Democrat.

A few judicious phone calls indicated that Miss Duke and Mr. Quinn were not engaged. They had never met. The story blew up in Whittaker's face. He relayed the news to the boss. The city editor, who was reading some wire copy, said: "Write it."

"Write what?" said Whittaker. The boss, still reading, nodded solemnly: "The story." The rewrite man tried to explain that there was no story, that there was nothing about which he could write. Clarke growled: "Give me a page and a paragraph."

Whittaker sat down and wrote. And what he wrote, somehow or other, appeared on page 3 of the first edition:

"Miss Doris Duke, beautiful heir to tobacco millions, is so fabulously rich, so well-heeled and attractive, that news yesterday that she was not engaged to Assemblyman Michael Quinn stunned Broadway."

Ah, for the good old days . . .

The Cancer Saga

Let us not be so sure to number the dead from cancer; there are always the living, those who have met the enemy, known its exactions and have overcome it. According to Dr. Sidney Farber, professor of pathology at the Harvard Medical School, the cure rate of cancer has changed in the last three years from one in four to one in three as a result of medical research programs.

This is a high rate of cure and proves what study and research and knowledge can do. My own experience with cancer was quite simple. We discovered it and got it out. Of course, there is no guarantee that another cancer may not be forming elsewhere and one must recognize that he is not eternal.

What are you looking for, guarantees? It is enough that one can live a little longer, enjoy the company of those whom he loves for another period of time. Life cannot be guaranteed as there can be no security, no assurances of anything. Those who seek guarantees, seek more than can be given. It is enough that one knows that there are men and women who every day work to defeat this malignant thing that only lives to kill.

And those men and women also cannot guarantee that the very costly work that they are doing—costly in money, in time, in the lives of researchers — will bring success. They know by experience that when much work is done by skilled and competent people on research projects, something may come out of it. For instance, Dr. Farber told a Congressional committee:

"Within the past few weeks, at least five virus or viral agents derived from mice with leukemia and capable of causing leukemia in other mice have been shown to be productive of antibody formation."

There it is. The beginning of a concept, namely, that there may be a connection between some forms of cancer and some kind of virus. It will take years before anything can be proved. Then it takes time to understand what was proved and what chemicals might be used to cure the disease. Then it will be found that the dosages are not quite right and that there are dangerous side effects. And then they will know exactly how to use the chemicals and they will be called, "wonder drugs," as, indeed, everything that saves our lives is a wonderful instrument if properly understood and used.

Many persons, particularly those who watch beloved ones suffer, urge speed. Why, they ask, if so much money is spent on research, is so little discovered? Impatient we all are, but the rate of those who do not die rises and that ought to mean much. It is sad, indeed, to see a beloved one die when the cure is just around the corner but that corner must be turned.

Both of the great killers have attacked me during the past three years, heart and cancer. For decades before that I never had any troubles beyond a cold and once a bad appendix. Then suddenly, my heart kicked up. And then a cancer appeared. I am feeling fine, thank you. Nor were the experiences too unpleasant. The repair jobs are a bit rough, particularly the inconvenience of dieting and not smoking the wonderful Havana cigars to which I used to be addicted. However, I have had decades of great enjoyment and a rich life with the sin of gluttony the most usual of my errors.

What is there to complain about? Modern medical and chemotherapy research and modern surgery are keeping more of us alive longer than ever before and if we are so disposed, more happily. The National Cancer Institute has asked Congress for $110,000,000 this year. It is a trifle compared to what is wasted in this land on the escapist and really useless pleasures which passing, bring us to those years when aches and pains betoken that the Reaper is not far away.

What would we not at that moment give to send the Reaper away! Research will do it. The time may come when we shall live as long as Methuselah and when we shall learn to count our blessings and forget all else.

Spare Your Heart Through Moderation

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The heart takes a beating in the middle-aged person who is overweight, smokes excessively, and who has high blood pressure and a high blood cholesterol level. The coronary arteries suffer most and the heart muscle is affected indirectly when these arteries fail to deliver enough nourishment.

Most of these factors can be corrected or kept under control, provided the individual is willing to mend his ways. The coronary arteries do not harden overnight. It takes a long time for a vessel to clog up but once the obstruction occurs, it is impossible to reverse the process and clean out the clot.

Maintaining normal weight is a matter of discipline. Diet plays a major role and the earlier good eating habits are established, the easier it is to avoid corpulence. Obesity does not cause hypertension but the two often are associated.

Emotional tension and fatigue raise flood pressure and the combination often is noted among those who develop heart attacks. (Dr. Van Dellen will send a list of rules on how to obtain membership in the coronary club if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies letter.)

Statistics show that heavy smokers do not live as long as light smokers or abstainers. The same can be said of heavy drinkers. This speaks well for moderation in all things.

All these factors are related in some way to the blood cholesterol. Fats in the diet may be deposited as fatty molecules in the form of cholesterol and thicken the walls of the arteries. Higher cholesterol readings are obtained in the obese and during periods of stress and emotional tension.

Exercise lowers the level and so do certain dietary substances, hormones, and vitamins. There is good reason to consume less animal fats and remain cool, calm, and collected. Practice moderation.

TOMORROW: Fishing, a wholesome hobby.

STIFFNESS

Mrs. A. writes: Some months ago the middle finger of my right hand became stiff. Now the index finger has become sore and swollen. Do you think it will help to wear rubber gloves when doing the dishes and laundry?
REPLY

Rubber gloves would be helpful only if the skin is being irritated by soaps and detergents. If arthritis is responsible for your symptoms, washing dishes in hot water will relieve distress.

DAILY BATHING

P. C. A. writes: Should a person take a daily bath or only when he needs one?
REPLY

Daily bathing is a good hygienic habit. But if the practice makes the skin too dry and aggravates an existing dermatitis, fewer baths are indicated. Many persons who live and work in a clean environment remain clean even though they bathe every other or every third day.

CAN'T DECIDE

Mrs. E. writes: I find it difficult to make up my mind about anything. When I go shopping I fuss and fret before buying and by the time I get the clothes home I have changed my mind and have to return them. Do you think I'm abnormal?
REPLY

Not for a woman.

HOARSENESS

M. J. writes: Can tests determine whether prolonged pharyngitis is due to a malignancy?
REPLY

Yes, but in the majority of instances the ulcerated area of the throat is visible to the examining physician.

HAIR COLDS

Mrs. D. writes: Can a person catch cold in the roots of the hair?
REPLY

No. A "cold in the head" does not reach the roots of the hair; it prefers the mucous membranes of the nose and throat. Of course, I may be wrong, but I won't believe it until the hair sneezes.

PITUARY GROWTH

L. N. writes: Does enlargement of the pituitary gland mean a tumor?
REPLY

In most cases, yes.

A.I.

F.S.W. writes: Is artificial insemination an accepted practice in the United States, or is it considered illegal?
REPLY

It's not universally accepted but it is not against the law. The legal and religious aspects of the procedure must be considered before it is done.

SPINAL REGIONS

R. T. writes: What is meant by the dorsal and lumbar spine?
REPLY

Dorsal spine consists of the 12 vertebrae that extend roughly from the base of the neck to the lower part of the chest. The lumbar vertebrae are five in number and extend from this point to the top of the pelvis.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Able Official, An Able Successor

It has been less than two years since the space age began in earnest, after the launching of Russia's first sputnik, and one of the men who has been most influential in guiding U. S. efforts along the hard road created by the head start of the Soviet Union is leaving his government post with the sincere regrets of the public he has served well.

Dr. James R. However, Daniel's former gas and oil friends are now yelling "traitor," especially Tennessee Gas Transmission, El Paso Natural Gas, and Herman and George Brown of Texas Eastern. The latter are special friends of Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

Before Daniel was elected to the U. S. Senate he staged a famous battle against a sales tax proposed by the then Governor "Pappy" O'Daniel. It was Price who led the "immortal 56" legislators in demanding higher taxes on big business, not higher taxes on the consumer. He won.

Today as governor he is equally embattled with his own legislature, much to the great displeasure of the pipeline industry.

Cleveland voters have been sending Sen. Steve Young, of Ohio, Joe Newman's "Father Goose" rhyme. It reads: "Said Senator Young (and he wins our applause), while straining at Adams, why swallow Strauss? Never were words more courageously flung, but such are the things that you do when you are Young.". . . . . Sen. Thurston Morton, the new Republican chairman, asked Ike to let him attend future Cabinet meetings. Morton argued that the GOP should have a voice in policy decisions affecting 1960. Ike was hesitant. . . . Morton had better luck when he invited the administrative assistants of 11 Senators who face re-election next year. They were not hesitant. He fed them sandwiches and Coca-Cola — no bourbon — though Morton comes from the bourbon state.

British Politicians 'Mess Up' Geneva Talks

By David Lawrence

LONDON—Suddenly and with no apparent reason except domestic politics, the infuence at the Geneva conference hitherto wielded so skillfully by Selwyn Lloyd, the British Foreign Secretary, has been torpedoed.

Seldom has there been such a vivid illustration of how, with the best intentions, a political maneuver, designed to ease the way for the promotion of a man to a higher post, can turn out to be a faux pas.

For, whatever may have been the motive—and it probably had to do with preparing the way to remove some of the handicaps the conservatives face in their general election to be held soon —the net result was to throw a monkey wrench into the wheels of international diplomacy at a critical moment.

To announce that one of the Big Four ministers is on the way out is to say, in efefct, that there is something wrong with his performance as a Foreign Secretary. The London "Times," which published the first article, had a "scoop" on Monday morning, but the information wasn't presented in a simple news article with even anonymous attribution of the sources. The story was made up of speculative comments such as are usually found on the editorial page. It said in part:

"We may safely accept that Mr. Macmillan has lately taken Mr. Selwyn Lloyd's arm in paternal grip, led him to one side, and spoken from the heart. Call it the personal advice a leader offers to a favoured lieutenant, or call it the first unmistakable hint about the Prime Minister's intentions if he is summoned to form another ministry after the general election—it makes no difference. What matters is that Mr. Macmillan has let Mr. Lloyd know that at the Foreign Office, in these troubled times, enough is enough."

The article went on to say that Mr. Lloyd has done well but that continuance in the Foreign Office might sap his health. It then adds:

"But the transportation of Mr. Selwyn Lloyd to another departmental office is clearly still several months ahead."

Then, it might be asked, what was the purpose of the obviously inspired story, particularly at this time when the Foreign Secretary of Great Britain is approaching the most critical week in the foreign ministers conference at Geneva? Is it possible that those who were so absorbed in domestic politics chose to ignore the obvious effects internationally, or did they just forget about them as politicians sometimes do when they move unswervingly toward their goal in a politics-above-all-else tactic?

The feeling here is that some timid elements in the Conservative Party, looking ahead to a close election, had considered that Mr. Lloyd's previous association with the Eden regime — when the tragic Suez episode occurred — could lose votes for the incumbent party and that hence a change would be salutary.

But even conceding the desirability of presenting a strong front in the elections, why was the story given such prominence, and did the "Times" perhaps overplay a piece of political gossip that never was intended to affect Mr. Lloyd's present position at Geneva?

Unfortunately, the Soviets will have no difficulty putting an interpretation on the whole affair that will suit their purposes. They will take it for granted that Mr. Lloyd was "too tough" to suit Mr. Macmillan and too harmonious with the viewpoints of the French and American envoys, and that this development represents a retreat by the British and a split in the unity hitherto presented. The Soviets will say Mr. Macmillan is at odds with the other Western leaders.

Denials have been issued already to counter such misconceptions, but a foreign minister who is, for any reason, on the way out doesn't have the influence that he otherwise exercises when he has the full confidence of his superiors. Mr. Lloyd has done a superb job in Geneva. It's too bad somebody bungled and cut the ground from under him when he most needed unequivocal support. But the ways of politicians are devious, and they haven't yet learned how to keep from messing up foreign affairs in the middle of delicate negotiations with a dangerous adversary.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

One large factor behind White House considerations on a summit meeting is Soviet behavior at the long drawn-out Geneva talks seeking an agreement to ban atomic bomb testing.

The discussions have been going on for more than six months, and have been on the verge of collapse most of that time. They were preceded by a Soviet pledge t stop testing, which the Russians broke unilaterally.

In the whole field of banning atomic testing and in all the discussion about the seriousness of atomic "fallout," the Russian position has been viewed with the utmost suspicion by United States experts.

Mr. Eisenhower and his advisors are almost completely convinced that the Soviet position lacks sincerity and that the entire subject is being used by them in their "warmongering" propaganda campaign against the United States.

For this reason, Mr. Eisenhower has dispatched several personal letters to Nikita Khrushchev, making compromise proposals in an effort to meet Soviet objections and still preserve a workable international inspection system.

If no affirmative progress has been made in the test-ban talks by this summer, it will be another powerful argument for Mr. Eisenhower to skip the summit meeting.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The subject of newspaper leads has always been an interesting one to me. This is especially true of such stories that lend themselves to bright writing. Recently, Ray Erwin, a columnist on Editor & Publisher, has been publishing famous leads. He has some pretty good ones.

The most renowned is the one Grantland Rice wrote after a Notre Dame game of the 1920s, when he said that ". . . the four horsemen ride the evening sky." Another one, quoted by Fred Russell of the Nashville Banner, was written by Harry Williams a long time ago: "Mr. Arthur Summers Sutherland pitched his initials off yesterday, but the Los Angeles nine again went down to defeat 1 to 0."

Jack Lait had a sharp eye for good leads and good titles for books too. He was editor of the New York Mirror, chewing interminably on his own gums, and he told me that he was thinking of writing his memoirs. I asked him if he had a title for it. He said: "It will be called Lead to Come."

The same man, as a reporter on The Chicago Herald Examiner, heard that Harry K. Thaw had escaped from an insane asylum in New York and was said to be in the Chicago area. Lait used his contacts to find Thaw, and had an interview with him. The lead of his story was simple: "Harry K. Thaw arrived in Chicago yesterday brown as a nut."

Fritz Howell, according to Erwin, covered a wrestling match in which a butter belly named Ali Baba was lifted by his opponent and tossed on his head out of the ring onto the concrete floor. Howell's lead was: "Stars fell on Ali Baba last night."

John McNulty had a left-handed sense of humor, and he had the gift of making much out of nothing. He was in a little place called Martinsville, West Virginia when a real live motion picture company arrived to make a picture called Show Boat. Jack's lead was typical: "Some day the Archbishop of Canterbury may ride down the main street of Martinsville on the front seat of a two-seater bicycle, with Gilda Gray on the back seat, and singing 'Yes sir, she's my baby,' but Martinsville won't be any more excited than it is today."

On St. Valentine's Day in 1929, seven gangsters were lined against a garage wall in Chicago and machine-gunned to death.

The leads that night were of varying impact in the several newspapers, but Arthur Turney, of the Herald-Examiner, wrote the one that is remembered: "Chicago gangsters graduated yesterday from murder to massacre."

The one that remains with me was written by James Whittaker on The Mirror. It was 1931, and the city editor, George Clarke, had a tip that a rich girl named Doris Duke was about to become engaged to a New York State Assemblyman named Michael Quinn. He asked Whittaker to run it down by phone.

The rewrite man got the clips on Doris Duke and Mr. Quinn and discovered that neither was well known, although there was a little information to the effect that Miss Duke was wealthy. He found very little about Quinn except that he was a Democrat.

A few judicious phone calls indicated that Miss Duke and Mr. Quinn were not engaged. They had never met. The story blew up in Whittaker's face. He relayed the news to the boss. The city editor, who was reading some wire copy, said: "Write it."

"Write what?" said Whittaker. The boss, still reading, nodded solemnly: "The story." The rewrite man tried to explain that there was no story, that there was nothing about which he could write. Clarke growled: "Give me a page and a paragraph."

Whittaker sat down and wrote. And what he wrote, somehow or other, appeared on page 3 of the first edition:

"Miss Doris Duke, beautiful heir to tobacco millions, is so fabulously rich, so well-heeled and attractive, that news yesterday that she was not engaged to Assemblyman Michael Quinn stunned Broadway."

Ah, for the good old days . . .

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The heart takes a beating in the middle-aged person who is overweight, smokes excessively, and who has high blood pressure and a high blood cholesterol level. The coronary arteries suffer most and the heart muscle is affected indirectly when these arteries fail to deliver enough nourishment.

Most of these factors can be corrected or kept under control, provided the individual is willing to mend his ways. The coronary arteries do not harden overnight. It takes a long time for a vessel to clog up but once the obstruction occurs, it is impossible to reverse the process and clean out the clot.

Maintaining normal weight is a matter of discipline. Diet plays a major role and the earlier good eating habits are established, the easier it is to avoid corpulence. Obesity does not cause hypertension but the two often are associated.

Emotional tension and fatigue raise flood pressure and the combination often is noted among those who develop heart attacks. (Dr. Van Dellen will send a list of rules on how to obtain membership in the coronary club if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies letter.)

Statistics show that heavy smokers do not live as long as light smokers or abstainers. The same can be said of heavy drinkers. This speaks well for moderation in all things.

All these factors are related in some way to the blood cholesterol. Fats in the diet may be deposited as fatty molecules in the form of cholesterol and thicken the walls of the arteries. Higher cholesterol readings are obtained in the obese and during periods of stress and emotional tension.

Exercise lowers the level and so do certain dietary substances, hormones, and vitamins. There is good reason to consume less animal fats and remain cool, calm, and collected. Practice moderation.

TOMORROW: Fishing, a wholesome hobby.

STIFFNESS

Mrs. A. writes: Some months ago the middle finger of my right hand became stiff. Now the index finger has become sore and swollen. Do you think it will help to wear rubber gloves when doing the dishes and laundry?

REPLY

Rubber gloves would be helpful only if the skin is being irritated by soaps and detergents. If arthritis is responsible for your symptoms, washing dishes in hot water will relieve distress.

DAILY BATHING

P. C. A. writes: Should a person take a daily bath or only when he needs one?

REPLY

Daily bathing is a good hygienic habit. But if the practice makes the skin too dry and aggravates an existing dermatitis, fewer baths are indicated. Many persons who live and work in a clean environment remain clean even though they bathe every other or every third day.

CAN'T DECIDE

Mrs. E. writes: I find it difficult to make up my mind about anything. When I go shopping I fuss and fret before buying and by the time I get the clothes home I have changed my mind and have to return them. Do you think I'm abnormal?

REPLY

Not for a woman.

HOARSENESS

M. J. writes: Can tests determine whether prolonged pharyngitis is due to a malignancy?

REPLY

Yes, but in the majority of instances the ulcerated area of the throat is visible to the examining physician.

HAIR COLDS

Mrs. D. writes: Can a person catch cold in the roots of the hair?

REPLY

No. A "cold in the head" does not reach the roots of the hair; it prefers the mucous membranes of the nose and throat. Of course, I may be wrong, but I won't believe it until the hair sneezes.

PITUARY GROWTH

L. N. writes: Does enlargement of the pituitary gland mean a tumor?

REPLY

In most cases, yes.

A.I.

F.S.W. writes: Is artificial insemination an accepted practice in the United States, or is it considered illegal?

REPLY

It's not universally accepted but it is not against the law. The legal and religious aspects of the procedure must be considered before it is done.

SPINAL REGIONS

R. T. writes: What is meant by the dorsal and lumbar spine?

REPLY

Dorsal spine consists of the 12 vertebrae that extend roughly from the base of the neck to the lower part of the chest. The lumbar vertebrae are five in number and extend from this point to the top of the pelvis.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

An Old Lady in a bookstore pointed to a bulky, boxed six-volume set and asked, "What's that?" A clerk informed her, "That's a definitive collection of Songs Sung in Fraternity Houses."

"And what," she persisted, "is the tiny paperback stacked beside it?"

"That, madam," answered the clerk, "is the expurgated edition."

Jessica, 9, had been practicing her piano lesson diligently for a solid hour, when her long-suffering father put down his paper and told his wife, "I never realized what a blood-curdling piece of music 'Row, Row, Row Your Boat' really is."

Commissioners Name Two Orderlies

Two orderlies were named Tuesday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Ralph C. O'Hara, who was not on an eligible list, was given a temporary appointment as orderly at the County Infirmary. Howard McCarthy, who is on the list, was given a probationary appointment as orderly at Sylvan Retreat.

The commissioners also approved an application form for retiring teachers who wish to collect an additional $40 a month supplemental pension. There are some 15 questions to be answered by the applicants, according to the form drawn up by Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the commissioners.

Arthur Taylor, mathematics teacher at Allegany High School, was the first teacher to request the $40 supplemental pension. He informed the commissioners last week of his plans to retire July 1 and asked if some application form for the supplemental pension were available. That prompted the preparation of the form.

Truck And Cargo Destroyed By Fire

A trailer and cargo of sheet glass were destroyed in a fire late Wednesday on U. S. Route 50 near Burlington.

Members of the Romney and Burlington volunteer fire companies said the blaze apparently resulted from overheated tires or brakes as the trailer rig descended Knobley Mountain. No estimate of damage was available, but fire company spokesmen said the trailer was destroyed and little hope was held that any of the sheet glass escaped damage.

The vehicle was owned by the West Virginia Motor Express Company of Charleston and was enroute to a destination in the east when the fire occurred.

The driver unhitched the tractor portion of the rig and drove about three miles to Burlington to summon aid, firemen said.

Gas Company Will Mail Refund Checks

The Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company will mail about 20,000 refund checks to its heating customers in West Virginia next week.

Totaling $138,747, the checks will go to customers who heated their homes with gas during the April, 1958-April, 1959, period, according to C. C. Robbins, district manager. All checks will be mailed within a two-week period.

Major difference in approved rates and those collected by the firm for about 12 months is the elimination of a $1 monthly charge heating customers paid under the proposed rates. This charge constitutes the bulk of the refund being made, Robbins said.

Heating customers who used over 2,000 cubic feet of gas a month for 11 to 12 months under the rates collected will receive a refund of about $11, plus interest, he explained.

Minor changes in the approved rates from those collected do not alter the total monthly costs for customers who use gas only for cooking, water-heating, clothes-drying and other low-volume household purposes, Robbins said.

C & A filed on November 21, 1957, rates designed to produce about $661,000 a year more revenue. This request was reduced to $539,000 by the Public Service Commission in April of this year. The total refund includes interest of the $122,000 reduction, Robbins points out.

C & A serves about 16,700 customers in nine east-central West Virginia counties. Over 70 per cent of these use gas for heating and will receive a refund, the official said. Any customer who lived at more than one address during the period the rates were in effect will receive a refund check for each location.

Sen. Bean Reviews Tax Problems In West Virginia

MOOREFIELD — West Virginia Senate President Ralph J. Bean declared the last session of the legislature imposed more taxes than any other legislature in the 100 year history of the state. Senator Bean, speaking to the Moorefield Lions Club said that the tax on business known as the gross sales tax, is the largest single tax source amounting to over $52,000,000. The Senator said that in many cases this tax is unfair because it is imposed whether a firm makes a profit or not. He declared that business is not expanding in West Virginia because of the business tax.

Bean said that more new money was raised for road construction, over $10,000,000, than in any other year in the history of the state. He said the new tax money came from a one cent per gallon tax on gasoline making the total tax now 10c; a 15 per cent incerase in license tags; a $5 fee for a special license tag, and operators cards increased from $1 to $5. The Senator said $7,000,000 in new taxes for education was approved and that doubling the tuition for state colleges totaled $3,000,000. Bean said that a tax is imposed as of July 1 of $2.20 per thousand dollars on real estate transfers in addition to the federal tax of $1.10 per $1000.

The Senator said that in his opinion a revision of the tax structure in West Virginia is necessary and that $200,000 has been appropriated for a tax study. The 15 member study group are all tax experts and former state tax commissioners. He also pointed out that West Virginia has the second lowest real estate taxes in the nation.

His final recommendation was to throw out the business and occupation tax, or gross sales tax, entirely, and impose higher property taxes and a state income tax along with the sales tax. He said West Virginia is not alone in its tax worries, but that every state in the country has serious problems.

In commenting on activities of the last session of the legislature, Bean said that a record number of bills were introduced, a total of 876 in both houses. He said that 209 were enacted into law and the governor vetoed 10. He said that the legislators couldn't possibly remember the number and titles to all the bills and urged constituents when referring to certain bills to give full information about a bill so that the legislators could identify it.

In the business session of the meeting the new officers for the ensuing year were installed by Judge H. Gus Muntzing, international counsellor of Lions International. Installed were Richard Troughton as president, Roy Hamilton, C. B. Bishoff and Guy Lang as first, second and third vice-presidents, O. R. Bean as secretary, Clyde Grimes as treasurer, J. M. Harrison and Charles Roth as lion tamer and assistant, Wendell Hester, retiring president as tail twister, C. A. Ludwick Jr. as assistant, and George Ours and Glenn Evans as new members of the board of directors.

Judge Muntzing charged the new officers with carrying out their duties of their offices. He told the new officers that they are an important part of the largest civic club in the world with over 600,000 members in over 11,000 clubs.

Wendell Hester, retiring president of the group was presented with a past president's pin as he relinquished his gavel to Troughton.

A report was made that the Moorefield Development Company is negotiating a loan from the Small Business Administration for $150,000 to build new buildings for the Raygold plant which will increase employment by 100 workers.

Troughton announced a meeting in Petersburg on Friday night June 12 of representatives of the Lions clubs in Franklin, Moorefield and Petersburg and of the Petersburg Kiwanis club to hear a representative from the US Department of Commerce on area development. Ten representatives from the Moorefield club will attend.

Delegates to the state Lions convention in Charleston convening this weekend are O. R. Bean, R. J. Bean, J. M. Harrison and Wendell Hester. The Moorefield club has endorsed the candidacy of Kenneth Frye of the Wardensville club for district governor.

Charles Rohrbaugh, Moorefield acting postmaster, was introduced as a new member of the group and Aud Smith and Vernon Taylor were club guests.

W.Va. Moves Ahead In Obtaining New Industries

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Gov. Cecil H. Underwood pointed out Thursday that West Virginia is near the top of the ladder in industrial development.

The chief executive presented reporters at a news conference with a copy of a recent article in "Steel," a national publication of the steel industry.

The magazine pointed out that most southern states and "a few" in the midwest were most active in promoting their areas for new industries.

"Tiny West Virginia, sparked by the traveling salesmanship of Gov. Cecil Underwood, has claimed 143 new plants with a capital investment of over $1.4 billion since 1954," the magazine said.

Sen. Bean Reviews Tax Problems In West Virginia

MOOREFIELD — West Virginia Senate President Ralph J. Bean declared the last session of the legislature imposed more taxes than any other legislature in the 100 year history of the state. Senator Bean, speaking to the Moorefield Lions Club said that the tax on business known as the gross sales tax, is the largest single tax source amounting to over $52,000,000. The Senator said that in many cases this tax is unfair because it is imposed whether a firm makes a profit or not. He declared that business is not expanding in West Virginia because of the business tax.

Bean said that more new money was raised for road construction, over $10,000,000, than in any other year in the history of the state. He said the new tax money came from a one cent per gallon tax on gasoline making the total tax now 10c; a 15 per cent incerase in license tags; a $5 fee for a special license tag, and operators cards increased from $1 to $5. The Senator said $7,000,000 in new taxes for education was approved and that doubling the tuition for state colleges totaled $3,000,000. Bean said that a tax is imposed as of July 1 of $2.20 per thousand dollars on real estate transfers in addition to the federal tax of $1.10 per $1000.

The Senator said that in his opinion a revision of the tax structure in West Virginia is necessary and that $200,000 has been appropriated for a tax study. The 15 member study group are all tax experts and former state tax commissioners. He also pointed out that West Virginia has the second lowest real estate taxes in the nation.

His final recommendation was to throw out the business and occupation tax, or gross sales tax, entirely, and impose higher property taxes and a state income tax along with the sales tax. He said West Virginia is not alone in its tax worries, but that every state in the country has serious problems.

In commenting on activities of the last session of the legislature, Bean said that a record number of bills were introduced, a total of 876 in both houses. He said that 209 were enacted into law and the governor vetoed 10. He said that the legislators couldn't possibly remember the number and titles to all the bills and urged constituents when referring to certain bills to give full information about a bill so that the legislators could identify it.

In the business session of the meeting the new officers for the ensuing year were installed by Judge H. Gus Muntzing, international counsellor of Lions International. Installed were Richard Troughton as president, Roy Hamilton, C. B. Bishoff and Guy Lang as first, second and third vice-presidents, O. R. Bean as secretary, Clyde Grimes as treasurer, J. M. Harrison and Charles Roth as lion tamer and assistant, Wendell Hester, retiring president as tail twister, C. A. Ludwick Jr. as assistant, and George Ours and Glenn Evans as new members of the board of directors.

Judge Muntzing charged the new officers with carrying out their duties of their offices. He told the new officers that they are an important part of the largest civic club in the world with over 600,000 members in over 11,000 clubs.

Wendell Hester, retiring president of the group was presented with a past president's pin as he relinquished his gavel to Troughton.

A report was made that the Moorefield Development Company is negotiating a loan from the Small Business Administration for $150,000 to build new buildings for the Raygold plant which will increase employment by 100 workers.

Troughton announced a meeting in Petersburg on Friday night June 12 of representatives of the Lions clubs in Franklin, Moorefield and Petersburg and of the Petersburg Kiwanis club to hear a representative from the US Department of Commerce on area development. Ten representatives from the Moorefield club will attend.

Delegates to the state Lions convention in Charleston convening this weekend are O. R. Bean, R. J. Bean, J. M. Harrison and Wendell Hester. The Moorefield club has endorsed the candidacy of Kenneth Frye of the Wardensville club for district governor.

Charles Rohrbaugh, Moorefield acting postmaster, was introduced as a new member of the group and Aud Smith and Vernon Taylor were club guests.

Paper Mill Announces Promotions

Robert S. Wilkins Gets New Position

LUKE — Robert S. Wilkins has been promoted to the newly created position of supervisor of traffic and purchasing, and Donald E. Messinger has been promoted to the position of purchasing agent at the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, according to Harold A. Sutphen, commercial superintendent.

Wilkins, a veteran of 17 years in the purchasing-traffic field, joined the company as staff advisor concentrating on special traffic and purchasing problems. His new responsibilities include the development of purchasing and traffic policies and procedures in keeping with the company's decentralization program and in anticipation of the mill's expanded operations.

Before joining the company, Wilkins was purchasing agent for Allied Chemical Corporation for nine years. Prior to that he held traffic and purchasing positions with Freeport Sulphur Company. Wilkins attended Colgate and Columbia Universities and was supervisor and office manager for Consolidated Edison Company before entering the purchasing-traffic field.

Before assuming his duties as purchasing agent Monday, Messinger was administrative assistant to George Naughton, project manager for the mill's expansion program. He is a graduate of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce at the University of Pennsylvania with a bachelor of science degree in economics. He first joined the company as a member of the Commercial Analysis group at the Luke mill.

William K. Huckins has been named to succeed Messinger as administrative assistant in the expansion program. He has been a member of the Commercial Analysis group at the Luke mill since graduating from the University of Maine with a bachelor of arts degree in business and economics.

Wilkins lives in Westernport, Messinger in Bloomington and Huckins in Frostburg.

The promotion of Carl Leatherman and Berma Yerkey to the position of assistant beater room supervisors was also announced at the Luke mill. Leatherman will be responsible for the lower mill beater rooms, Number 1 through 5, and Yerkey will be responsible for the upper mill beater rooms, Numbers 6 and 7 and eventually Numbers 8 and 9.

After starting to work at Luke in February 1936 as a temporary laborer in the boiler house, Leatherman went to work in the beater rooms in August of that year, became a beaterman in June 1949 and a tour supervisor in February of this year.

Before coming to Luke, Yerkey worked five years as a laboratory technician for the Celanese Corporation and seven years for the U. S. Department of Agriculture as an engineering specialist. Both Leatherman and Yerkey live at Keyser.

Westernport Plans Master Meter For Bloomington

WESTERNPORT—The Bloomington Water Company will be notified that beginning next January 1 they will be charged for water by a master meter at a price to be determined. At the present time they pay the town 60 per cent of the gross the Bloomington Water Company collects.

It was also decided at the regular meeting of Mayor Ray L. Wilt and Town Commissioners that no more water taps will be permitted until an agreement is reached between the two parties.

William Bevers, an official of the water company conferred with the town officials and said he did not think that Bloomington was using an average of 35,000 gallons of water daily for the 110 families. But he did not dispute the figure.

Westernport may be faced with a water problem when the sewage treatment plant being built is completed. It is learned that it will use an estimated 400,000 gallons of water daily, officials said.

Mayor Wilt reported complaint of Arnold Weese, Church Street, of water running on his property from a sewer carrying water from Oakview section.

It was ordered that $1,793.21 be transferred from the water account to the town account.

The Mayor and Council will meet Wednesday, June 10, 7 p. m. on the parking lot and inspect the streets of the town.

C&P To Spend $81,500 For Dial At Brandywine

FRANKLIN, W. Va. — The C&P Telephone Company has approved an expenditure of $81,500 for replacement of the existing telephone building and dial equipment in Brandywine, William Hise, C&P service manager for the Brandywine area announced.

"In view of the expanding economy and residential development in and around the area, the company feels the present dial equipment will be inadequate to give the people in the Brandywine area good service," Hise said.

Construction of the new building is expected to begin in the near future, and as soon as the building is completed central office equipment will be installed. Present plans are to have the office in operation in the first quarter of 1960.

Hise said when the office is placed in operation the Brandywine telephone numbers will be changed to the two-letter five-digit numbering system. The Brandywine office will be known as the CHestnut exchange.

"Eventually the new Brandywine system will become a part of the nationwide direct long distance dialing system," Hise remarked. "But prior to these changes there will be further customer instructions concerning this new dial system."

In addition to the construction of an office at Brandywine and the installation of dial equipment, a considerable amount of telephone lines and additional poles will be installed to serve the Naval Radio Research Station at Sugar Grove and other locations in the area where there is residential development.

"The telephone plant and equipment is the company's way of keeping pace with the growth and future demand for telephone service in a rapidly expanding area," Hise said.

Chisox Top Orioles In 17th, 6-5, Take First Place

Torgeson's Homer Wins Long Battle

Walker Is Victim, Bob Shaw Winner, 39 Players Used

CHICAGO (UPI) — Earl Torgeson homered with two outs in the 17th inning Thursday to give the Chicago White Sox a 6-5 victory over the Baltimore Orioles and first place in the American League race. It was the longest game played in the major leagues this season.

Torgeson whacked the 1-1 pitch by Jerry Walker, the third Baltimore pitcher who worked 5 2-3 innings, into the third row of seats in the lower deck of right field. The blow ended a four hour-37 minute game in which the White Sox used 21 players and Baltimore 18.

The White Sox had only one infielder and three pitchers left on the bench. The win, credited to the sixth Sox pitcher, Bob Shaw, lifted Chicago seven percentage points above runner-up Cleveland in the league standings with .564 against .556.

The White Sox moved a half-game in front with their sixth extra-inning win of the year against only one overtime loss.

Longest Of Season

Until Thursday's lengthy struggle, the longest game in the majors this season was Milwaukee's 15-inning win over Los Angeles May 5. The longest in the American League had been 14-inning games by the White Sox against Detroit and by Washington and New York.

The victory was only the fourth in the last 12 games for Chicago and put the club in first place for second time this season. They grabbed a similar margin over the Indians May 18, but a day later fell back to second place.

Errors played a big part in prolonging the contest. Baltimore made five bobbles and Chicago three. The last Oriole boot gave the White Sox a chance to come from behind and tie the score for the second time.

Scores On Wild Throw

After singles by Torgeson and Harry Simpson in the 13th, Willie Miranda fielded a sacrifice bunt by Luis Aparicio and threw the ball over the first baseman's head. This let Torgeson score the tying run to knot the score at 5-5 and put Aparicio on third.

Nellie Fox and Bubba Phillips were given intentional walks to fill the bases, but Jim Rivera popped out and John Romano flied out to send the game into the 14th inning.

Barton's Braves nosed out the Klondyke Colts yesterday at Klondyke by the score of 7-6 for their tenth consecutive victory in the Twilight Baseball League.

Lefty Grover Fazenbaker outpitched George Winters, Owens and Jim Winters to notch his fifth pitching triumph of the campaign.

The Braves racked up 11 hits, three of which were credited to Howell while H. Fazenbaker obtained a double and single and Woody Symons collected a pair of one-base knocks. A shoestring catch by centerfielder Mike Muir of a smash from the bat of Ray Morgan in the second inning was the outstanding fielding play. The catch resulted in a double play and retired the side.

Jim Winters, Junior Buskirk and Harold Buskirk shared six of Klondyke's eight blows. Winters banged a triple and double.

Teams Play 8-8 Tie

Junie Perry belted a three-run homer in the 8th to knot the score at 8-8 as Westernport and Midland were halted by darkness.

Midland had taken an 8-5 lead with a three-run rally in the top of the eighth, before Perry slammed his round tripper.

Miller paced Midland with two doubles and a single, Tom Dunn rapped a two-bagger and two singles and Truly banged a double. Tucker Cain had two of Westernport's seven bingles.

In a game limited to five innings so that Mt. Savage players could attend graduation exercises, Franklin routed the winless Mt. Savage club by the score of 18-1. The winners scored 12 runs in the fifth.

Rack Up 16 Safeties

"Kip" Montgomery held Mt. Savage to two hits, singles by Robeson and Blank. Franklin's 16-hit barrage included three each by Jay Hill and Paul Cook, two each by Ed Laupert, John Wilkinson and Montgomery and three-base wallops by Jack Keller and Clarence "Pooch" Lewis.

Carl Donald pitched a three-hitter and fanned eight as Lonaconing downed Zihlman by the score of 6-0 at Barton.

Donald Notches Third

The victory was the third in four outings for Donald.

Roger Wilson with a triple and single and Ray Ralston with a double and single to his credit sparked 'Coney's 11-hit assault. Wayne Bridges, Zihlman hurler, struck out six and Downton accounted for two of the losers' three safeties.

Cubs Edge Phils, 3-2

Taylor's Sacrifice Fly Wins In Tenth

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Catcher Sammy Taylor, with a sixth-inning homer to his credit, hit a 10th inning sacrifice fly Thursday to give the Chicago Cubs a 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Taylor, who has confined his home run activities to Philadelphia pitching this season, flied to center after George Altman tripled with one out in the 10th and thus salted away the fourth victory of the season for Don Elston.

Elston pitched hitless ball for the Cubs in the final 3 1-3 innings.

The loser was big Gene Conley, who went all the way for the Phillies. Pitching a five-hitter including homers by Taylor and Walt Moryn.

Conley and Bob Anderson were in a scoreless duel until Taylor opened the sixth with his third homer of the season. His other two homers this year were May 3 and May 19, both against the Phillies and both in one-run victories for the Cubs.

The Phils chased Anderson and went into the lead when Wally Post and Harry Anderson singled with one out. Carl Sawatski hit a double play ball to Dale Long, but Ernie Banks threw the relay wild and Post scored. Dave Philley batted for George Anderson and tripled, scoring pinch-runner Joe Koppe.

Tigers Are Crushed By Yanks, 14-3

Lopez Tops Attack, Ford Notches Sixth

DETROIT (UPI) — Hector Lopez, hitting a sizzling .375 since joining the Yankees, doubled in two runs and homered for two more Thursday to lead New York to a lop-sided 14-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Southpaw Whitey Ford, who won his sixth game against three defeats, chipped in with his first home run since 1955 and doubled in two more runs. Elston Howard also banged a two-run homer in the assault.

Ten of the Ynaks' 15 hits were for extra bases as they won their seventh game in the last nine starts.

The victory boosted the resurgent Yankees to within one percentage point of sixth place Detroit.

New York hopped on loser Jim Bunning for four runs in the first inning and three more in the third to win going away.

Lopez' bases-loaded double and another two-run double by Gil McDougald accounted for the first inning scoring.

Lopez hit his eighth homer of the year—and second for New York in a week since being traded from Kansas City—in the third.

Mickey Mantle doubled in another run in the fourth and Ford homered off Pete Burnside, second of three Tiger pitchers, in the sixth.

Hank Bauer and Howard, sent in as defensive replacements, and Tony Kubek combined for three runs in the eighth with Howard cracking his sixth home run. Ford wound it up with a two-run bloop double in the ninth.

Ford scattered seven hits and was in command all the way. He walked four and struck out six.

The Tiger scoring was spaced to one run in the second, another in the fourth on Frank Bolling's homer and one in the eighth.

Tiger To Make Debut In U.S.

Calhoun Is Favored Over British Champ

NEW YORK (UPI) — Slugger Rory Calhoun is favored at 8-5 to beat stocky Dick Tiger Friday night at Madison Square Garden and spoil the British Empire middleweight champion's American debut.

Their international 10-rounder will be televised and broadcast by NBC.

Tiger, who comes from Nigeria (Equatorial West Africa), hopes to use his first United States fight as a springboard toward the world title, just as Hogan Kid Bassey, fellow Nigerian, did in his successful 1957 quest of the vacant featherweight crown.

Bassey similarly was a British Empire champ at the time.

Calhoun of White Plains, N.Y., is favored because he is considered the harder puncher. They have somewhat similar slam-bang styles, but Tiger does more crouching and leaping in. At 24, Calhoun is the younger by five years; but he has absorbed much more ring-battering.

Chisox Top Orioles In 17th, 6-5, Take First Place

Torgeson's Homer Wins Long Battle

Walker Is Victim, Bob Shaw Winner, 39 Players Used

CHICAGO (UPI) — Earl Torgeson homered with two outs in the 17th inning Thursday to give the Chicago White Sox a 6-5 victory over the Baltimore Orioles and first place in the American League race. It was the longest game played in the major leagues this season.

Torgeson whacked the 1-1 pitch by Jerry Walker, the third Baltimore pitcher who worked 5 2-3 innings, into the third row of seats in the lower deck of right field. The blow ended a four hour-37 minute game in which the White Sox used 21 players and Baltimore 18.

The White Sox had only one infielder and three pitchers left on the bench. The win, credited to the sixth Sox pitcher, Bob Shaw, lifted Chicago seven percentage points above runner-up Cleveland in the league standings with .564 against .556.

The White Sox moved a half-game in front with their sixth extra-inning win of the year against only one overtime loss.

Longest Of Season

Until Thursday's lengthy struggle, the longest game in the majors this season was Milwaukee's 15-inning win over Los Angeles May 5. The longest in the American League had been 14-inning games by the White Sox against Detroit and by Washington and New York.

The victory was only the fourth in the last 12 games for Chicago and put the club in first place for second time this season. They grabbed a similar margin over the Indians May 18, but a day later fell back to second place.

Errors played a big part in prolonging the contest. Baltimore made five bobbles and Chicago three. The last Oriole boot gave the White Sox a chance to come from behind and tie the score for the second time.

Scores On Wild Throw

After singles by Torgeson and Harry Simpson in the 13th, Willie Miranda fielded a sacrifice bunt by Luis Aparicio and threw the ball over the first baseman's head. This let Torgeson score the tying run to knot the score at 5-5 and put Aparicio on third.

Nellie Fox and Bubba Phillips were given intentional walks to fill the bases, but Jim Rivera popped out and John Romano flied out to send the game into the 14th inning.

Barton's Braves nosed out the Klondyke Colts yesterday at Klondyke by the score of 7-6 for their tenth consecutive victory in the Twilight Baseball League.

Lefty Grover Fazenbaker outpitched George Winters, Owens and Jim Winters to notch his fifth pitching triumph of the campaign.

The Braves racked up 11 hits, three of which were credited to Howell while H. Fazenbaker obtained a double and single and Woody Symons collected a pair of one-base knocks. A shoestring catch by centerfielder Mike Muir of a smash from the bat of Ray Morgan in the second inning was the outstanding fielding play. The catch resulted in a double play and retired the side.

Jim Winters, Junior Buskirk and Harold Buskirk shared six of Klondyke's eight blows. Winters banged a triple and double.

Teams Play 8-8 Tie

Junie Perry belted a three-run homer in the 8th to knot the score at 8-8 as Westernport and Midland were halted by darkness.

Midland had taken an 8-5 lead with a three-run rally in the top of the eighth, before Perry slammed his round tripper.

Miller paced Midland with two doubles and a single, Tom Dunn rapped a two-bagger and two singles and Truly banged a double. Tucker Cain had two of Westernport's seven bingles.

In a game limited to five innings so that Mt. Savage players could attend graduation exercises, Franklin routed the winless Mt. Savage club by the score of 18-1. The winners scored 12 runs in the fifth.

Rack Up 16 Safeties

"Kip" Montgomery held Mt. Savage to two hits, singles by Robeson and Blank. Franklin's 16-hit barrage included three each by Jay Hill and Paul Cook, two each by Ed Laupert, John Wilkinson and Montgomery and three-base wallops by Jack Keller and Clarence "Pooch" Lewis.

Carl Donald pitched a three-hitter and fanned eight as Lonaconing downed Zihlman by the score of 6-0 at Barton.

Donald Notches Third

The victory was the third in four outings for Donald.

Roger Wilson with a triple and single and Ray Ralston with a double and single to his credit sparked 'Coney's 11-hit assault. Wayne Bridges, Zihlman hurler, struck out six and Downton accounted for two of the losers' three safeties.

Cubs Edge Phils, 3-2

Taylor's Sacrifice Fly Wins In Tenth

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Catcher Sammy Taylor, with a sixth-inning homer to his credit, hit a 10th inning sacrifice fly Thursday to give the Chicago Cubs a 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Taylor, who has confined his home run activities to Philadelphia pitching this season, flied to center after George Altman tripled with one out in the 10th and thus salted away the fourth victory of the season for Don Elston.

Elston pitched hitless ball for the Cubs in the final 3 1-3 innings.

The loser was big Gene Conley, who went all the way for the Phillies. Pitching a five-hitter including homers by Taylor and Walt Moryn.

Conley and Bob Anderson were in a scoreless duel until Taylor opened the sixth with his third homer of the season. His other two homers this year were May 3 and May 19, both against the Phillies and both in one-run victories for the Cubs.

The Phils chased Anderson and went into the lead when Wally Post and Harry Anderson singled with one out. Carl Sawatski hit a double play ball to Dale Long, but Ernie Banks threw the relay wild and Post scored. Dave Philley batted for George Anderson and tripled, scoring pinch-runner Joe Koppe.

Tigers Are Crushed By Yanks, 14-3

Lopez Tops Attack, Ford Notches Sixth

DETROIT (UPI) — Hector Lopez, hitting a sizzling .375 since joining the Yankees, doubled in two runs and homered for two more Thursday to lead New York to a lop-sided 14-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Southpaw Whitey Ford, who won his sixth game against three defeats, chipped in with his first home run since 1955 and doubled in two more runs. Elston Howard also banged a two-run homer in the assault.

Ten of the Ynaks' 15 hits were for extra bases as they won their seventh game in the last nine starts.

The victory boosted the resurgent Yankees to within one percentage point of sixth place Detroit.

New York hopped on loser Jim Bunning for four runs in the first inning and three more in the third to win going away.

Lopez' bases-loaded double and another two-run double by Gil McDougald accounted for the first inning scoring.

Lopez hit his eighth homer of the year—and second for New York in a week since being traded from Kansas City—in the third.

Mickey Mantle doubled in another run in the fourth and Ford homered off Pete Burnside, second of three Tiger pitchers, in the sixth.

Hank Bauer and Howard, sent in as defensive replacements, and Tony Kubek combined for three runs in the eighth with Howard cracking his sixth home run. Ford wound it up with a two-run bloop double in the ninth.

Ford scattered seven hits and was in command all the way. He walked four and struck out six.

The Tiger scoring was spaced to one run in the second, another in the fourth on Frank Bolling's homer and one in the eighth.

Tiger To Make Debut In U.S.

Calhoun Is Favored Over British Champ

NEW YORK (UPI) — Slugger Rory Calhoun is favored at 8-5 to beat stocky Dick Tiger Friday night at Madison Square Garden and spoil the British Empire middleweight champion's American debut.

Their international 10-rounder will be televised and broadcast by NBC.

Tiger, who comes from Nigeria (Equatorial West Africa), hopes to use his first United States fight as a springboard toward the world title, just as Hogan Kid Bassey, fellow Nigerian, did in his successful 1957 quest of the vacant featherweight crown.

Bassey similarly was a British Empire champ at the time.

Calhoun of White Plains, N.Y., is favored because he is considered the harder puncher. They have somewhat similar slam-bang styles, but Tiger does more crouching and leaping in. At 24, Calhoun is the younger by five years; but he has absorbed much more ring-battering.

Pittsburgh Stretches Winning Streak To Six Games

Kline Scores 9-3 Triumph Over Cards

Virdon Hits 2-Run Homer; Musial Ties 2-Base Hit Record

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates turned on extra base power Thursday to rout the St. Louis Cardinals 9-3, for a sweep of a three-game series and stretched their winning streak to six games.

The Cardinals out-hit the Pirates 13-12 but winning pitcher Ron Kline went the rout and scattered the hits effectively. He was in trouble several times but always pitched himself out.

Stan Musial gained some consolation for the losers when he slashed a double in the seventh inning to tie the National League record of 651 two-baggers established by all-time great Honus Wagner.

Bill Virdon's two-run homer off Tom Cheney in the sixth inning and Bill Mazeroski's two-run triple in the third inning paced the Pirate attack. Mazeroski's blow came off loser Ernie Broglio and cushioned a four-run uprising that put the Pirates ahead to stay.

Don Hoak also contributed two RBI's to help the Pirates win their 12th out of their last 15 games. All Pirates hit safely. Kline helped his own cause by driving in a run with a sixth inning single. Dick Groat showed three for four.

Gino Cimoli smashed a two-run double in the second inning to give the Cardinals an early lead. They picked up their last tally in the following frame. Ken Boyer led off with a single, advanced when Kline threw too low in a pick off attempt and scored on Bill White's single.

A pair of shutout wins registered by the Loyal Order of Moose and the Knights of Columbus featured games played yesterday in the Rocking Chair Softball League.

The Moose "walked" their way to a 1-0 victory over Celanese in the final frame while the Caseys scored all their runs in the 7th inning to whip Ritter's A. C., by the score of 4-0.

Pounding the offerings of two pitchers for 13 hits, the V.F.W. maintained their one-game lead over the idle Elks by walloping Pittsburgh Plate Glass, 13-1, behind the 5-hit twirling of Glenn Kauffman, who posted his third straight victory of the campaign.

Pass Proves Costly

A pass to Manager Gene Scaletta with the bases loaded in the bottom of the 7th enabled the Moose and Dick Klavuhn to eke out the decision over the Silkmen. Pete Cecil opened with a two-bagger. Jimmy Morgan singled and Bob Dickel was intentionally passed, loading up the hassocks. Woody Woodson's infield grounder forced Cecil at the plate and Scaletta walked to force over the only run of the contest.

Davis had three hits and Bobby Goss two for the Silks who outhit their conquerors, 6-5.

Singles by John Esposito, J. Suter Kegg and George Geatz, and Norman Sell's double coupled with four errors produced the Caseys' four runs in the 7th after six scoreless innings to give Al Sheetz his fourth win against a single setback.

Geatz had two of the Knights' seven hits. Fred Comer's double was among the R.A.C.'s five safeties.

VFW Extends String

The V.F.W. extended their winning streak to six games in whipping the Glassmen at Post Field in a game featured by circuit belts by Vern Penner and Ted Durbin. Penner won the game in the first inning when he hit a round-tripper with two aboard while Durbin hit his four-master in the 5th with one mate on base.

Kauffman limited Pittsburgh Plate to five hits, two of which were credited to Clay Ingram. The V.F.W. hurler smacked a triple and two singles while "Butch" Johnson and "Bub" Porter garnered two hits each. The scores:

Giants Beat Burdette First Time Since 1954

Cepeda Drives In Seven Runs In 11-5 Win Over Braves

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Orlando Cepeda drove in seven runs, five of them on two homers, to lead the San Francisco Giants to an 11-5 victory over the Milwaukee Braves and an old nemesis, Lew Burdette, Thursday.

The Giants hadn't beaten Burdette since 1954. The Braves righthander, the winningest pitcher in the National League, appeared headed for his 14th straight victory over San Francisco, holding a 5-1 lead after three innings.

The young first baseman, the 1958 rookie of the year, put his team ahead with a three-run wallop in the next inning. The ball went over the left field bleachers, the first time that's been done since the Braves moved here in 1953. He batted in their final two runs with a bases-loaded double, his fourth hit, in the eighth.

Three Giant pitchers held Milwaukee to only six hits, two of them homers by Del Crandall and Wes Covington that gave the Braves their temporary lead. The Giants got 15 hits off three Braves pitchers. Gordon Jones, who relieved starter Mike McCormick after three innings and pitched only the hitless fourth, was the winning pitcher. Stu Miller pitched the last five innings, allowing three of the hits.

The second place Giants, who split the four game series and left town trailing the Braves by 2½ games, rammed across two more runs in the sixth on back-to-back doubles by Andre Rodgers and Hobie Landrith and a single by Jim Davenport. Willie Mays accounted for two of the Giants' runs, scoring one on a fielder's choice in the first and the other on a single prior to Cepeda's payoff blast in the fifth.

Boston Stops Athletics 5-2

Geiger's Hitting Highlights Victory

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Gary Geiger snapped the cellar dwelling Boston Red Sox out of a three - game losing streak with a two run single and a solo homer Thursday in a 5-2 win over the Kansas City Athletics.

Geiger returned to the lineup for the first time since jamming his ribs in a diving lunge at a Mickey Mantle drive in Yankee Stadium May 26. He lined the single in a four - run fourth inning off loser Rip Coleman and followed with a homer off Murray Dickson in the sixth, his third of the season.

Coleman gave up four runs and five hits in the first three and a third innings while the Bosox' Jerry Casale settled down after a shaky start to go the route scattering seven hits.

Dick Gernert started the fourth with a scratch infield single followed by Jackie Jensen's RBI double. Frank Malzone walked and Geiger hit a sharp single to right center. Geiger, holding down center field in a crippled-up Red Sox outfield, later scored on Casale's force out.

The A's scored in the fourth on a triple by Jerry Lumpe and a single by Hal Smith, with Joe DeMaestri adding a solo homer in the seventh, his fourth.

The loss ended the Athletic's five game winning streak, their longest of the season.

Pittsburgh Stretches Winning Streak To Six Games

Virdon Hits 2-Run Homer; Musial Ties 2-Base Hit Record

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates turned on extra base power Thursday to rout the St. Louis Cardinals 9-3, for a sweep of a three-game series and stretched their winning streak to six games.

The Cardinals out-hit the Pirates 13-12 but winning pitcher Ron Kline went the rout and scattered the hits effectively. He was in trouble several times but always pitched himself out.

Stan Musial gained some consolation for the losers when he slashed a double in the seventh inning to tie the National League record of 651 two-baggers established by all-time great Honus Wagner.

Bill Virdon's two-run homer off Tom Cheney in the sixth inning and Bill Mazeroski's two-run triple in the third inning paced the Pirate attack. Mazeroski's blow came off loser Ernie Broglio and cushioned a four-run uprising that put the Pirates ahead to stay.

Don Hoak also contributed two RBI's to help the Pirates win their 12th out of their last 15 games. All Pirates hit safely. Kline helped his own cause by driving in a run with a sixth inning single. Dick Groat showed three for four.

Gino Cimoli smashed a two-run double in the second inning to give the Cardinals an early lead. They picked up their last tally in the following frame. Ken Boyer led off with a single, advanced when Kline threw too low in a pick off attempt and scored on Bill White's single.

A pair of shutout wins registered by the Loyal Order of Moose and the Knights of Columbus featured games played yesterday in the Rocking Chair Softball League.

The Moose "walked" their way to a 1-0 victory over Celanese in the final frame while the Caseys scored all their runs in the 7th inning to whip Ritter's A. C., by the score of 4-0.

Pounding the offerings of two pitchers for 13 hits, the V.F.W. maintained their one-game lead over the idle Elks by walloping Pittsburgh Plate Glass, 13-1, behind the 5-hit twirling of Glenn Kauffman, who posted his third straight victory of the campaign.

Pass Proves Costly

A pass to Manager Gene Scaletta with the bases loaded in the bottom of the 7th enabled the Moose and Dick Klavuhn to eke out the decision over the Silkmen. Pete Cecil opened with a two-bagger, Jimmy Morgan singled and Bob Dickel was intentionally passed, loading up the hassocks. Woody Woodson's infield grounder forced Cecil at the plate and Scaletta walked to force over the only run of the contest.

Davis had three hits and Bobby Goss two for the Silks who outhit their conquerors, 6-5.

Singles by John Esposito, J. Suter Kegg and George Geatz, and Norman Sell's double coupled with four errors produced the Caseys' four runs in the 7th after six scoreless innings to give Al Sheetz his fourth win against a single setback.

Geatz had two of the Knights' seven hits. Fred Comer's double was among the R.A.C.'s five safeties.

VFW Extends String

The V.F.W. extended their winning streak to six games in whipping the Glassmen at Post Field in a game featured by circuit belts by Vern Penner and Ted Durbin. Penner won the game in the first inning when he hit a round-tripper with two aboard while Durbin hit his four-master in the 5th with one mate on base.

Kauffman limited Pittsburgh Plate to five hits, two of which were credited to Clay Ingram. The V.F.W. hurler smacked a triple and two singles while "Butch" Johnson and "Bub" Porter garnered two hits each. The scores:

Giants Beat Burdette First Time Since 1954

Cepeda Drives In Seven Runs In 11-5 Win Over Braves

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Orlando Cepeda drove in seven runs, five of them on two homers, to lead the San Francisco Giants to an 11-5 victory over the Milwaukee Braves and an old nemesis, Lew Burdette, Thursday.

The Giants hadn't beaten Burdette since 1954. The Braves righthander, the winningest pitcher in the National League, appeared headed for his 14th straight victory over San Francisco, holding a 5-1 lead after three innings.

Cepeda made it 5-3 with his first homer in the fourth after Willie Mays had reached first with a scratch hit.

The young first baseman, the 1958 rookie of the year, put his team ahead with a three-run wallop in the next inning. The ball went over the left field bleachers, the first time that's been done since the Braves moved here in 1953. He batted in their final two runs with a bases-loaded double, his fourth hit, in the eighth.

Three Giant pitchers held Milwaukee to only six hits, two of them homers by Del Crandall and Wes Covington that gave the Braves their temporary lead. The Giants got 15 hits off three Braves pitchers. Gordon Jones, who relieved starter Mike McCormick after three innings and pitched only the hitless fourth, was the winning pitcher. Stu Miller pitched the last five innings, allowing three of the hits.

The second place Giants, who split the four game series and left town trailing the Braves by 2½ games, rammed across two more runs in the sixth on back-to-back doubles by Andre Rodgers and Hobie Landrith and a single by Jim Davenport. Willie Mays accounted for two of the Giants' runs, scoring one on a fielder's choice in the first and the other on a single prior to Cepeda's payoff blast in the fifth.

Boston Stops Athletics 5-2

Geiger's Hitting Highlights Victory

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Gary Geiger snapped the cellar dwelling Boston Red Sox out of a three - game losing streak with a two run single and a solo homer Thursday in a 5-2 win over the Kansas City Athletics.

Geiger returned to the lineup for the first time since jamming his ribs in a diving lunge at a Mickey Mantle drive in Yankee Stadium May 26. He lined the single in a four - run fourth inning off loser Rip Coleman and followed with a homer off Murray Dickson in the sixth, his third of the season.

Coleman gave up four runs and five hits in the first three and a third innings while the Bosox' Jerry Casale settled down after a shaky start to go the route scattering seven hits.

Dick Gernert started the fourth with a scratch infield single followed by Jackie Jensen's RBI double. Frank Malzone walked and Geiger hit a sharp single to right center. Geiger, holding down center field in a crippled-up Red Sox outfield, later scored on Casale's force out.

The A's scored in the fourth on a triple by Jerry Lumpe and a single by Hal Smith, with Joe DeMaestri adding a solo homer in the seventh, his fourth.

The loss ended the Athletic's five game winning streak, their longest of the season.

Gene Littler Leads Eastern Open Tourney

Shoots 7-Under-Par 65 In First Round

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., led a gang of par busters making the new Pine Ridge golf course look easy Thursday by taking only 65 strokes in the first round of the Eastern Open.

Littler's score was seven strokes under the par set for the 6,820-yard layout opened only two months ago.

Littler, a three-time winner this year, held only a 1-stroke edge after the first 18 holes. Ed (Porky) Oliver of Denver and Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., steamed right in behind him with 66 strokes.

Two Trail By Stroke

Don January of Denver and Bill Blanton of Coronado, Calif., were on their heels at 67. Another stroke back were Joe Campbell of Chattanooga, Tenn., Bill Maxwell of Odessa, Texas, Bob Wolfe of Salton Sea, Calif., and Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif.

The lowest winning score in the past nine Eastern Opens played at another municipal course was 275, 13 strokes under par, by Sam Snead in 1952.

The touring pros shooting for $20,000 in prizes made a mockery of the Pine Ridge par 36-36. Littler ripped 5 of his 7 strokes off it on the back nine which proved a particularly soft touch.

Has Won $15,936

The 28-year-old Littler has been one of the steadiest players on the tour. He won at Phoenix, Tucson and Hot Springs and his earnings of $15,936 are second highest.

Signs For Life

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Attractive Jeanne Kuran Face has a word of advice on how to pick a husband who is a major league baseball player—just ask him for his autograph.

At least that's how Mrs. Face met her hubby, star relief pitcher Roy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates. It was back in 1953 when Jeanne was in a restaurant near Forbes Field after a Pirate game had been rained out. The pitcher was a rookie that year.

"My sister and I were eating and I got enough courage to ask Roy for an autograph," says Mrs. Face. "He obliged and three months later he signed a marriage license application."

Mrs. H. Haller, Miami, Fla.
Noted hair expert warns, "Don't put it off until it's all off."

Hair Specialist Here SATURDAY Will Show How to Save Hair And Prevent Baldness

CORAL GABLES, FLA. — New home treatment methods for saving hair and improving its growth will be demonstrated in Cumberland, June 6, Saturday only.

Trichologist J. J. Stalteri will be in charge, representing the dynamic Harlow Hair Experts organization. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 to 8:00 p.m. Saturday at the Ft. Cumberland Hotel.

This new treatment is neither "mail order" nor "cure all." It is adapted to the individual after a personal examination and progress is checked personally at regular intervals by a Harlow expert.

Who Can Be Helped?

For many years now Harlow Hair Experts have been checking the hair of thousands of people across the country. They have encountered and dealt with hundreds of cases of every kind of hair trouble. From this experience has grown the body of scientific knowledge leading to the development of the new Harlow home treatment.

Will the new Harlow treatment cure baldness? "No!" For we cannot help men and women who are slick-bald after years of gradual hair loss. But if you still have fuzz and your scalp is still creating hair, you can at least save and thicken what you have. Some conditions, such as "spot baldness" usually have complete coverage if caught in time!

Other conditions that usually bring on excessive hair loss — dandruff, itching, over-oiliness or dryness, follicle clogged with sebum or seborrhea — can be corrected by the Harlow home treatment if caught before the "hair factories" are destroyed.

Evidence of the success of the Harlow method is that the organization has quickly expanded to serve hundreds of cities in 32 states.

The most important thing is: "Don't wait until it's too late:"...

Surveys among men and women in all walks of life show that the worst enemies of your hair are (1) skepticism and (2) procrastination. The average balding person justifies his condition with one or the other of these two statements.

"I don't think anybody can stop hair loss" — or, "Oh I'm going to see an expert when I get around to it."

Baldness won't wait for doubters to be convinced or for procrastinators to take action later. You're going to keep right on losing your hair till you're bald, unless you get your scalp in healthy, hair growing condition again.

Satisfy 95 Per Cent

"Actually, our biggest problem is not in doing what we claim," says Harlow, "for we satisfy at least 95 per cent of our clients which, when you consider that almost every person is a "doubter" or a "putter offer" where hair is concerned, is an excellent showing. Getting these doubters in for an examination is really the problem."

Examine You Free

We want to make it clear that you incur absolutely no charge or obligation for coming in for an examination.

Your only obligation is to yourself to ease your mind of hair worries by learning how to save and thicken your hair at home! We will tell you frankly and sincerely whether or not you can be helped, how long it will take and how much it will cost. We do not accept cases that will not respond.

Guarantee Satisfaction

The Harlow Hair Experts will give you a written guarantee that you must be satisfied within 30 days or it costs you nothing.

For a free examination and discussion of your hair problems ask the desk clerk at the Ft. Cumberland Hotel, Saturday only between 1:00 and 8:00 p.m. for Mr. J. J. Stalteri's room number. He does not make appointments so come in at your convenience.

You won't be obligated or embarrassed in any way. Examinations are given in private.

Gene Littler Leads Eastern Open Tourney

Shoots 7-Under-Par 65 In First Round

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., led a gang of par busters making the new Pine Ridge golf course look easy Thursday by taking only 65 strokes in the first round of the Eastern Open.

Littler's score was seven strokes under the par set for the 6,820-yard layout opened only two months ago.

Littler, a three-time winner this year, held only a 1-stroke edge after the first 18 holes. Ed (Porky) Oliver of Denver and Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., steamed right in behind him with 66 strokes.

Two Trail By Stroke

Don January of Denver and Bill Blanton of Coronado, Calif., were on their heels at 67. Another stroke back were Joe Campbell of Chattanooga, Tenn., Bill Maxwell of Odessa, Texas, Bob Wolfe of Salton Sea, Calif., and Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif.

The lowest winning score in the past nine Eastern Opens played at another municipal course was 275, 13 strokes under par, by Sam Snead in 1952.

The touring pros shooting for $20,000 in prizes made a mockery of the Pine Ridge par 36-36. Littler ripped 5 of his 7 strokes off it on the back nine which proved a particularly soft touch.

Has Won $15,936

Royals, Maple Leafs Trade Four Players

MONTREAL (UPI) — The slumping Montreal Royals and the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Baseball league completed a four-player trade, Wednesday involving Montreal's Bob Wilson, currently hitting .353.

The Royals sent veteran outfielder Wilson and right-handed pitcher Ron Negray (5-4) to the Leafs in exchange for outfielder Angel Scull and infielder Mike Goliat.

No cash was involved.

Royal Orbit To Vie At Suffolk June 24

BOSTON (AP) — Royal Orbit, winner of the Preakness, has been entered for the $75,000 Massachusetts Handicap June 24 at Suffolk Downs. The track also reported trainer Reggie Cornell had filed the entry of the legendary Silky Sullivan, the West Coast slow starter.

Signs For Life

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Attractive Jeanne Kuran Face has a word of advice on how to pick a husband who is a major league baseball player—just ask him for his autograph.

At least that's how Mrs. Face met her hubby, star relief pitcher Roy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates. It was back in 1953 when Jeanne was in a restaurant near Forbes Field after a Pirate game had been rained out. The pitcher was a rookie that year.

"My sister and I were eating and I got enough courage to ask Roy for an autograph," says Mrs. Face. "He obliged and three months later he signed a marriage license application."

THEY RE-GREW HAIR!
IN 9 MONTHS — IN 6 MONTHS

Mr. H. Newhouse, Woodale, Ill. — Mrs. H. Haller, Miami, Fla.
Noted hair expert warns, "Don't put it off until it's all off."

Hair Specialist Here SATURDAY Will Show How to Save Hair And Prevent Baldness

CORAL GABLES, FLA. — New home treatment methods for saving hair and improving its growth will be demonstrated in Cumberland, June 6, Saturday only.

Trichologist J. J. Stalteri will be in charge, representing the dynamic Harlow Hair Experts organization. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 to 8:00 p.m. Saturday at the Ft. Cumberland Hotel.

This new treatment is neither "mail order" nor "cure all." It is adapted to the individual after a personal examination and progress is checked personally at regular intervals by a Harlow expert.

Who Can Be Helped?

For many years now Harlow Hair Experts have been checking the hair of thousands of people across the country. They have encountered and dealt with hundreds of cases of every kind of hair trouble. From this experience has grown the body of scientific knowledge leading to the development of the new Harlow home treatment.

Will the new Harlow treatment cure baldness? "No!" For we cannot help men and women who are slick-bald after years of gradual hair loss. But if you still have fuzz and your scalp is still creating hair, you can at least save and thicken what you have. Some conditions, such as "spot baldness" usually have complete coverage if caught in time!

Other conditions that usually bring on excessive hair loss — dandruff, itching, over-oiliness or dryness, follicle clogged with sebum or seborrhea — can be corrected by the Harlow home treatment if caught before the "hair factories" are destroyed.

Evidence of the success of the Harlow method is that the organization has quickly expanded to serve hundreds of cities in 32 states.

The most important thing is: "Don't wait until it's too late:"...

Surveys among men and women in all walks of life show that the worst enemies of your hair are (1) skepticism and (2) procrastination. The average balding person justifies his condition with one or the other of these two statements.

"I don't think anybody can stop hair loss" — or, "Oh I'm going to see an expert when I get around to it."

Baldness won't wait for doubters to be convinced or for procrastinators to take action later. You're going to keep right on losing your hair till you're bald, unless you get your scalp in healthy, hair growing condition again.

Satisfy 95 Per Cent

"Actually, our biggest problem is not in doing what we claim," says Harlow, "for we satisfy at least 95 per cent of our clients which, when you consider that almost every person is a "doubter" or a "putter offer" where hair is concerned, is an excellent showing. Getting these doubters in for an examination is really the problem."

Examine You Free

We want to make it clear that you incur absolutely no charge or obligation for coming in for an examination.

Your only obligation is to yourself to ease your mind of hair worries by learning how to save and thicken your hair at home! We will tell you frankly and sincerely whether or not you can be helped, how long it will take and how much it will cost. We do not accept cases that will not respond.

Guarantee Satisfaction

The Harlow Hair Experts will give you a written guarantee that you must be satisfied within 30 days or it costs you nothing.

For a free examination and discussion of your hair problems ask the desk clerk at the Ft. Cumberland Hotel, Saturday only between 1:00 and 8:00 p.m. for Mr. J. J. Stalteri's room number. He does not make appointments so come in at your convenience.

You won't be obligated or embarrassed in any way. Examinations are given in private.

Truck Stolen; Banks May Change Locks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because a panel truck was stolen Thursday eight banks in the Washington area probably will change locks.

The truck, which was recovered about three hours later, contained keys to the eight banks. It also contained 12 million dollars in cancelled checks. It belonged to a company employed by the Federal Reserve Bank at Richmond, Va. to transport canceled checks.

Richard F. Stokes of Alexandria, Va., the driver, said he parked the truck outside the Washington Loan & Trust Co. while he made a pickup. While he was inside the truck was stolen.

Although the bank keys were in the truck when it was recovered, police said it was missing long enough for someone to have duplicated the keys and suggested that the banks change locks.

Local Girl Gets Scholarship

Miss Judith Ann Fisher Wednesday at Fort Hill High School's awards assembly was presented the initial Helen Burns Miller Memorial Scholarship to Frostburg State Teachers College.

The scholarship is given by the Cumberland Chapter of the American Association of University Women and is in the memory of the late Mrs. Gilbert M. Miller, wife of the Spring Gap orchardist.

Mrs. Miller was very active in youth work, conservation activities and was a charter member, past president and chairman of many committees of the AAUW chapter.

Miss Fisher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Fisher, 1408 Oldtown Road. She received her diploma at Fort Hill's commencement exercises last night.

She was selected from a group of 15 candidates from local public and parochial schools on the basis of scholarship, leadership, initiative, character, activities and hobbies.

Judges were Miss Lillian Compton, Miss Janet Anderson, Miss Adele Malcolm, Miss Nan Livingston, Mrs. Veronica Schliefman, Mrs. Aden Everstine, Mrs. Arleen Russell, Mrs. Alice McGuire and Mrs. Ray Carroll.

Police Crack Juvenile Ring

The Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford have cracked a ring of juvenile thieves who have been operating throughout Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Police said yesterday the gang of youths, ranging in age from 15 to 18, have been stealing automobile accessories in Bedford and Blair counties, Altoona, Pa., Hagerstown and Cumberland.

The eight juveniles were taken into custody in Bedford Wednesday and have been released in the custody of their parents, pending a complete investigation.

Police said the juveniles were stealing hub caps, fender mirrors and almost anything that could be removed from a car.

Authorities said they believe the youths would steal items in the Cumberland area and then sell them in Pennsylvania. They would then steal accessories in Pennsylvania and sell them in Maryland.

Maryland State Police at the LaVale barracks said there are a number of cases in this area that are being investigated.

PE Employes Set Safety Record

Employes of the four companies comprising the Potomac Edison System have completed a million man-hours without a lost-time accident, according to D. E. Stultz, PE president.

This is the first time in the history of the utility firm that such a record was accomplished, Stultz said, adding that the more than 1,600 employes of the four companies established the feat in the period from February 13 through May 31.

Stultz also pointed out that the million man-hour mark is recognized in the electric industry as a major achievement and that companies compiling such a record are generally honored by safety organizations.

The actual figures as of May 31, he continued, was 1,003,376 accident-free man hours. Potomac Edison twice before came close to the elusive mark, the PE president said, reaching 888,328 man-hours in 1935, and amassing 970,121 hours in the following year.

Airman A Hero

TOKYO (UPI) — A U.S. airman was hailed by the Japanese Wednesday as a hero whose quick thinking saved the burning home of a Japanese family.

First Lt. Robert Schneidenbach, of (16 Ruby Pl.) Newark, N. J., a navigator with the 56th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron, spotted the fire while driving through a nearby town at night. He roused the family and organized a bucket brigade to battle the blaze. He received a citation for his efforts.

Truck Stolen; Banks May Change Locks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because a panel truck was stolen Thursday eight banks in the Washington area probably will change locks.

The truck, which was recovered about three hours later, contained keys to the eight banks. It also contained 12 million dollars in cancelled checks. It belonged to a company employed by the Federal Reserve Bank at Richmond, Va. to transport canceled checks.

Richard F. Stokes of Alexandria, Va., the driver, said he parked the truck outside the Washington Loan & Trust Co. while he made a pickup. While he was inside the truck was stolen.

Although the bank keys were in the truck when it was recovered, police said it was missing long enough for someone to have duplicated the keys and suggested that the banks change locks.

Judith Zimmerman Accepts Health Post

Local Girl Gets Scholarship

Miss Judith Ann Fisher Wednesday at Fort Hill High School's awards assembly was presented the initial Helen Burns Miller Memorial Scholarship to Frostburg State Teachers College.

The scholarship is given by the Cumberland Chapter of the American Association of University Women and is in the memory of the late Mrs. Gilbert M. Miller, wife of the Spring Gap orchardist.

Mrs. Miller was very active in youth work, conservation activities and was a charter member, past president and chairman of many committees of the AAUW chapter.

Miss Fisher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Fisher, 1408 Oldtown Road. She received her diploma at Fort Hill's commencement exercises last night.

She was selected from a group of 15 candidates from local public and parochial schools on the basis of scholarship, leadership, initiative, character, activities and hobbies.

Judges were Miss Lillian Compton, Miss Janet Anderson, Miss Adele Malcolm, Miss Nan Livingston, Mrs. Veronica Schliefman, Mrs. Aden Everstine, Mrs. Arleen Russell, Mrs. Alice McGuire and Mrs. Ray Carroll.

Police Crack Juvenile Ring

The Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford have cracked a ring of juvenile thieves who have been operating throughout Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Police said yesterday the gang of youths, ranging in age from 15 to 18, have been stealing automobile accessories in Bedford and Blair counties, Altoona, Pa., Hagerstown and Cumberland.

The eight juveniles were taken into custody in Bedford Wednesday and have been released in the custody of their parents, pending a complete investigation.

Police said the juveniles were stealing hub caps, fender mirrors and almost anything that could be removed from a car.

Authorities said they believe the youths would steal items in the Cumberland area and then sell them in Pennsylvania. They would then steal accessories in Pennsylvania and sell them in Maryland.

Maryland State Police at the LaVale barracks said there are a number of cases in this area that are being investigated.

PE Employes Set Safety Record

Employes of the four companies comprising the Potomac Edison System have completed a million man-hours without a lost-time accident, according to D. E. Stultz, PE president.

This is the first time in the history of the utility firm that such a record was accomplished, Stultz said, adding that the more than 1,600 employes of the four companies established the feat in the period from February 13 through May 31.

Stultz also pointed out that the million man-hour mark is recognized in the electric industry as a major achievement and that companies compiling such a record are generally honored by safety organizations.

The actual figures as of May 31, he continued, was 1,003,376 accident-free man hours. Potomac Edison twice before came close to the elusive mark, the PE president said, reaching 888,328 man-hours in 1935, and amassing 970,121 hours in the following year.

Airman A Hero

TOKYO (UPI) — A U.S. airman was hailed by the Japanese Wednesday as a hero whose quick thinking saved the burning home of a Japanese family.

First Lt. Robert Schneidenbach, of (16 Ruby Pl.) Newark, N. J., a navigator with the 56th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron, spotted the fire while driving through a nearby town at night. He roused the family and organized a bucket brigade to battle the blaze. He received a citation for his efforts.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Scott W. Marvin who departed this life, 5 years ago today, June 5, 1954.
Those dear busy hands were folded and still,
Sweet face we loved, passed from view
To Eternal Happiness, Peace, Joy and Rest.
Where God waits for fathers like you.

Market Declines Sharply On Late Burst Of Selling

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock values were slashed more than 3 billion dollars when a late burst of selling hit the market in the final half hour of trading, cutting individual prices 2 points or more in most groups and causing reporting tickers to run late.

The selling, not the result of any specific news item, apparently was touched off by a realizing drive in recent strong leaders which had failed to participate in the general adjustment which has been in progress in the general market.

While virtually all groups showed some big losers there were individual strong performers such as Johnson & Johnson which spurted 4 points late in the session on news of a new drug, developed by a subsidiary, which will dissolve blood clots. P. Lorillard held a gain of better than 2 points, reflecting a new cigaret in the offing.

Industrials, cut nearly 6 points on average, were at their lowest levels since May 12. Rails reached back to May 7 and for the utilities the average was the lowest since last Dec. 8. The declines in industrials and rails were the widest since May 7 while for the utilities it was the sharpest loss since Nov. 25. Utilities have been lower in 14 of the past 16 sessions.

The heavy selling came as the climax to an irregular, generally routine trading session in which, in a reversal of recent pattern, the blue chips were lower while in other sections of the list numerous good gains appeared.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Oats were firm, and other grains were mostly lower Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to off ¾; corn unchanged to off ¾; oats up ⅛ to ¼; new oats up ¼ to ⅜; rye off ⅜ to ⅝; soybeans off ⅜ to ¾.

Wheat was easier after early firmness following a private crop estimate that about 300 million fewer bushels would be produced this year than in 1958. Some hedge selling prevailed around the opening.

July corn was nearly steady, but deferred contracts were easier. Export houses bought actively at the start, and selling on resting orders was general.

The government granted export subsidies on 2,160,000 bushels of corn and 178,000 bushels of oats.

Oats were firm on buying stimulated by a less favorable crop comment. There was local and commission house buying of new September and December. Cash houses bought July.

Soybeans were off as much as a cent at one point today. Cash houses bought July, with longs and spreaders selling.

Outside markets were mixed. The range:

Market Declines Sharply On Late Burst Of Selling

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock values were slashed more than 3 billion dollars when a late burst of selling hit the market in the final half hour of trading, cutting individual prices 2 points or more in most groups and causing reporting tickers to run late.

The selling, not the result of any specific news item, apparently was touched off by a realizing drive in recent strong leaders which had failed to participate in the general adjustment which has been in progress in the general market.

While virtually all groups showed some big losers there were individual strong performers such as Johnson & Johnson which spurted 4 points late in the session on news of a new drug, developed by a subsidiary, which will dissolve blood clots. P. Lorillard held a gain of better than 2 points, reflecting a new cigaret in the offing.

Industrials, cut nearly 6 points on average, were at their lowest levels since May 12. Rails reached back to May 7 and for the utilities the average was the lowest since last Dec. 8. The declines in industrials and rails were the widest since May 7 while for the utilities it was the sharpest loss since Nov. 25. Utilities have been lower in 14 of the past 16 sessions.

The heavy selling came as the climax to an irregular, generally routine trading session in which, in a reversal of recent pattern, the blue chips were lower while in other sections of the list numerous good gains appeared.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Oats were firm, and other grains were mostly lower Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to off ¾; corn unchanged to off ¾; oats up ⅛ to ¼; new oats up ¼ to ⅜; rye off ⅝ to ⅝; soybeans off ⅜ to ¾.

Wheat was easier after early firmness following a private crop estimate that about 300 million fewer bushels would be produced this year than in 1958. Some hedge selling prevailed around the opening.

July corn was nearly steady, but deferred contracts were easier. Export houses bought actively at the start, and selling on resting orders was general.

The government granted export subsidies on 2,160,000 bushels of corn and 178,000 bushels of oats.

Oats were firm on buying stimulated by a less favorable crop comment. There was local and commission house buying of new September and December. Cash houses bought July.

Soybeans were off as much as a cent at one point today. Cash houses bought July, with longs and spreaders selling.

Outside markets were mixed. The range:

Wage Increase No. 1 Issue, Light Reports

Takes Grievances Under Consideration

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light last night told department workers that a wage increase will be the first thing discussed when the Mayor and Council sit down to work out next year's budget.

He said he believes a wage boost for city workers depends on whether or not the city can float a bond issue to meet some of the capital expenditures now coming from general funds.

Seek Reclassification

Workers pointed out that the Water Department could boost pay without a general raise by reclassifying workers.

Reclassification is badly needed, the men pointed out, citing that most crews are composed of two men, a $1.54 laborer and a $1.64 pipefitter. Both, they said, do the same work and should be paid the same.

Actually, it was pointed out, the "laborer" is not a laborer at all but a helper and should be re-classified for the work he is actually doing.

"Grossly Underpaid"

Mr. Light said there is no city worker who is not being "grossly underpaid," after rates for meter readers were cited. Water Department meter readers, the workers said, get $1.76 an hour as opposed to $2.49 paid by the gas company and the $100 a week by Potomac Edison.

The commissioner also promised to give consideration to a department request for a meal allowance or some food arrangement after five hours when workers are on emergency work.

Reclassification was also asked for machine operators and for warehouse men, who now perform emergency work at night but are paid as laborers.

Hospital Head Backs Increase For Blue Cross

Calls Rate Request Minimum Amount

BALTIMORE (AP) — The president of Hospital Council of Maryland, Inc., said Thursday he supports the request made last week for an increase in Blue Cross rates.

Dr. Edward Stinson Jr. said the rate boost "is the irreducible minimum required to sustain the Blue Cross Plan and keep it from becoming impaired or even insolvent."

Blue Cross officials have asked for a 24.5 per cent rate increase, to become effective Oct. 1. This was the second request in a year and a half for higher premiums for the medical insurance plan.

Blue Cross has more than one million subscribers in Maryland.

The Hospital Council of Maryland represents voluntary hospitals in Maryland. Dr. Stinson said these hospitals are "vitally concerned" with the application for higher rates.

"We believe that if a hearing is held by the insurance commissioner it should cover only those matters which are relevant," he said.

"Extraneous issues should not becloud the real question, which is the preservation of the financial integrity of the fund in order to protect the thousands of Blue Cross subscribers."

He pointed out that Blue Cross applied for a rate increase over a year ago, but that only a partial increase was granted after a considerble time lag.

"The present requested increase is not based solely on last year's hospital costs," he said. "It is based on actual experience over a period of years."

The Legislative Council agreed Wednesday to conduct a study of Blue Cross rates through a joint committee of the House of Delegates and Senate. The State Insurance Commissioner will decide later whether to conduct a hearing on the Blue Cross rate increase request.

Jury Action Voids Will In Dispute

Rules Signer Was Incapable

A jury verdict in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday afternoon had the effect of nullifying the will of the late George L. Arbogast, who was an 82-year-old resident of 104 South Street at the time of his death February 6.

Thomas Elias Sr. of Frostburg was foreman of the jury of five men and seven women, which deliberated about 45 minutes before reaching its verdict.

The jury had two issues to decide. The first was whether the purported will which Mr. Arbogast had signed last December 12 was signed by him as a result of the exercise of undue influence upon him. The jury decided that undue influence was exercised.

Two Issues

The second issue decided by the jury was whether Mr. Arbogast was of sound and disposing mind and capable of executing a valid deed and contract at the time the will was signed December 12. The jury decided that he was not.

Defendant in this action involving the dispute of the will was John L. Arbogast, a son, who lives at the South Street address. Under terms of the December 12 will, John L. Arbogast was bequeathed the South Street property and the rest of the estate was left equally to his three other children.

Plaintiffs in yesterday's action were the three other children. They are Mrs. Cleona MacMillan, this city; Mrs. Virginia Finn, Chicago, Ill., and George Ross Arbogast, Monrovia, Calif. The two sisters testified in the case yesterday but the brother did not return from California.

An earlier will of Mr. Arbogast, dated in July 1956, was not introduced in evidence. However, the jury was told by several witnesses that under its terms, the four children of George L. Arbogast were to share his estate equally.

Doctor Testifies

Dr. Howard L. Tolson, called as a witness by the plaintiffs, tetsified that Mr. Arbogast was so ill from uremic poisoning last December that he was incapable of executing a valid deed and contract.

Kelley, who drew up the will, and Simon F. Reilly and Peter J. Carpenti, partners in his office. James G. Stevenson, clerk to the commissioners, testified that he had known Mr. Arbogast for years and knew of his intent to leave the property to John L. Arbogast.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs in yesterday's action were Harry I. Stegmaier and William L. Wilson. Defense attorneys were John M. Robb and Peter J. Carpenti.

Weller Given 2 To 4 Years For Burglary

Sentence On Other Counts Suspended

Garnett Roy Weller, 29-year-old Hagerstown safecracker, yesterday was sentenced in Bedford to two to four years in the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburgh fo burglary.

Judge Richard C. Snyder suspended imposition of sentences on other charges of possession of burglary tools and two Uniform Firearms Act counts against Weller.

Weller was indicted by a Bedford County (Pa.) grand jury May 4 and pleaded guilty to the four charges before Judge Snyder on May 12. The court deferred passing sentence at that time pending a pre-sentencing investigation.

William E. Van Horn Jr., Bedford County prosecutor, said yesterday that Washington County (Md.) authorities have placed a detainer against Weller for violation of parole there.

The man was arrested in Bedford April 11 by town police who caught him in the Bedford Farm Bureau Cooperative building. He was nabbed by Patrolmen Bernard E. Stufft and Charles E. Bingham, who came upon him near the vault-type safe in which the company's receipts were kept.

Investigation disclosed Weller had gained access to the building by climbing a grain storage elevator, crossing the roof and entering a second story window. A small bag of burglar's tools was found outside a side entrance of the building.

When arrested, Weller was carrying a .25 caliber pistol, and more than $1,000 worth of special burglar tools were found in his car after his arrest.

PE Official Cites Scope Of Industrial Promotion

The area development manager for the Potomac Edison System yesterday told a Cumberland audience that this city faces some 7,000 competitors in its efforts to attract new industry.

B. G. Atwood, the Potomac Edison official, spoke at yesterday's meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at Central YMCA.

Mr. Atwood said that the competitors include thousands of individual communities, at least 46 of the American states and many railroads. State-wide financing of industrial promotion efforts is undertaken in all six of the New England states, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and North Carolina, among others.

The North Carolina program has proven particularly successful. There last year some 354 new industries with a total annual payroll of about $60 million were brought into the Tarheel state.

In Pennsylvania, the Industrial Development Authority has been effective in attracting new industry. Under this program, 30 per cent of the financing needs of a new industry are met by the authority, 20 per cent by the community and the other 50 per cent comes from standard lending institutions.

Mr. Atwood added this word of caution about industrial development: Don't overlook the existing industries which are providing jobs in the community.

City Workers Favor 70-Day Hospital Plan

City employes have approved a plan to increase Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection to 70 days, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The plan, providing for 40 extra days of coverage, was approved by a vote of 161-34, or by 82½ per cent of all workers who cast ballots.

The difference in cost — four cents a month—will be paid by the City of Cumberland, which provides basic Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection to employes.

The city makes payroll deductions for the difference if a worker desire similar protection for his family.

The special 70-day coverage will be provided in the new contract between the city and the non-profit hospital-surgical plan.

At present, the city is paying $3.10 for each employe with one year's service for individual Blue Cross-Shield coverage.

This rate, stipulated in a year's contract, goes to $3.54 on July 1 when the present pact expires.

The new rates for the standard 30-day contract will be $3.54 for an individual, $7.08 for a parent and child, $8.30 for husband and wife and $9.40 for a family.

The 70-day plan will cost $3.58 for an individual, $7.14 for parent and child, $9.52 for husband and wife and $10.62 for a family.

Motor Vehicles Building Site Is Supported

BALTIMORE (AP) — The office of Gov. Tawes, in answering criticism of a plan to erect a new Department of Motor Vehicles building in Anne Arundel County, said in effect Thursday the opposition was looking at the wrong figures.

Critics of the proposed move from downtown Baltimore to a site on Ritchie Highway near the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel have argued that the new location would inconvenience Baltimore city motorists.

They based their argument on the assumption that the city had about 50 per cent of all the vehicles registered in the state.

Not so, said the governor's office. Only 279,919 vehicles of the 1,082,218 licensed are located in the city.

Furthermore Lloyd L. Simpkins, administrative assistant to Tawes, said the Ritchie highway location would be easier to reach from most sections of the state than the present DMV building at Guilford avenue and 21st street.

The State Board of Public Works recently approved purchase of the 13 acre site off Ritchie highway at about $12,500 an acre. Critics contend the price is too high for the property. Earlier this week the Baltimore City Council passed a resolution urging the state to keep the building in the city.

Allegany County's Board of Commissioners got into the act this week with a letter opposing the proposed site. The western county commissioners said the DMV conducts most of its business by mail, and they want the new building erected in Allegany County.

Wage Increase No. 1 Issue, Light Reports

Takes Grievances Under Consideration

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light last night told department workers that a wage increase will be the first thing discussed when the Mayor and Council sit down to work out next year's budget.

He said he believes a wage boost for city workers depends on whether or not the city can float a bond issue to meet some of the capital expenditures now coming from general funds.

Seek Reclassification

Workers pointed out that the Water Department could boost pay without a general raise by reclassifying workers.

Reclassification is badly needed, the men pointed out, citing that most crews are composed of two men, a $1.54 laborer and a $1.64 pipefitter. Both, they said, do the same work and should be paid the same.

Actually, it was pointed out, the "laborer" is not a laborer at all but a helper and should be re-classified for the work he is actually doing.

"Grossly Underpaid"

Mr. Light said there is no city worker who is not being "grossly underpaid," after rates for meter readers were cited. Water Department meter readers, the workers said, get $1.76 an hour as opposed to $2.49 paid by the gas company and the $100 a week by Potomac Edison.

The commissioner also promised to give consideration to a department request for a meal allowance or some food arrangement after five hours when workers are on emergency work.

Reclassification was also asked for machine operators and for warehouse men, who now perform emergency work at night but are paid as laborers.

Light & Decker Has Option On PE Properties

The Light and Decker Company here has secured a 90-day option to purchase seven Potomac Edison Company properties on North Centre Street, it was learned yesterday.

Garland L. Johnston, Cumberland district manager for the Potomac Edison Company, said the option involves property at 325, 327, 401 and 407 North Centre Street and includes the old PE car barn, a boiler room, a repair shop and an office building.

The Light and Decker Company, dealer for trucks and farm equipment, is located at 315 South Centre Street.

Late last year, the Potomac Edison Company sought bids for the North Centre Street properties as it made plans to move into its modern service center here.

All of the bids received at that time were refused.

The buildings have been a landmark in this city since the early days of the street car.

They continued to serve as a car barn during the years the Potomac Edison Company was in the bus business here.

Hospital Head Backs Increase For Blue Cross

Calls Rate Request Minimum Amount

BALTIMORE (AP) — The president of Hospital Council of Maryland, Inc., said Thursday he supports the request made last week for an increase in Blue Cross rates.

Dr. Edward Stinson Jr. said the rate boost "is the irreducible minimum required to sustain the Blue Cross Plan and keep it from becoming impaired or even insolvent."

Blue Cross officials have asked for a 24.5 per cent rate increase, to become effective Oct. 1. This was the second request in a year and a half for higher premiums for the medical insurance plan.

Blue Cross has more than one million subscribers in Maryland.

The Hospital Council of Maryland represents voluntary hospitals in Maryland. Dr. Stinson said these hospitals are "vitally concerned" with the application for higher rates.

"We believe that if a hearing is held by the insurance commissioner it should cover only those matters which are relevant," he said.

"Extraneous issues should not becloud the real question, which is the preservation of the financial integrity of the fund in order to protect the thousands of Blue Cross subscribers."

He pointed out that Blue Cross applied for a rate increase over a year ago, but that only a partial increase was granted after a considerble time lag.

"The present requested increase is not based solely on last year's hospital costs," he said. "It is based on actual experience over a period of years."

The Legislative Council agreed Wednesday to conduct a study of Blue Cross rates through a joint committee of the House of Delegates and Senate. The State Insurance Commissioner will decide later whether to conduct a hearing on the Blue Cross rate increase request.

Jury Action Voids Will In Dispute

Rules Signer Was Incapable

A jury verdict in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday afternoon had the effect of nullifying the will of the late George L. Arbogast, who was an 82-year-old resident of 104 South Street at the time of his death February 6.

Thomas Elias Sr. of Frostburg was foreman of the jury of five men and seven women, which deliberated about 45 minutes before reaching its verdict.

The jury had two issues to decide. The first was whether the purported will which Mr. Arbogast had signed last December 12 was signed by him as a result of the exercise of undue influence upon him. The jury decided that undue influence was exercised.

Two Issues

The second issue decided by the jury was whether Mr. Arbogast was of sound and disposing mind and capable of executing a valid deed and contract at the time the will was signed December 12. The jury decided that he was not.

Defendant in this action involving the dispute of the will was John L. Arbogast, a son, who lives at the South Street address. Under terms of the December 12 will, John L. Arbogast was bequeathed the South Street property and the rest of the estate was left equally to his three other children.

Plaintiffs in yesterday's action were the three other children. They are Mrs. Cleona MacMillan, this city; Mrs. Virginia Finn, Chicago, Ill., and George Ross Arbogast, Monrovia, Calif. The two sisters testified in the case yesterday but the brother did not return from California.

An earlier will of Mr. Arbogast, dated in July 1956, was not introduced in evidence. However, the jury was told by several witnesses that under its terms, the four children of George L. Arbogast were to share his estate equally.

Doctor Testifies

Dr. Howard L. Tolson, called as a witness by the plaintiffs, tetsified that Mr. Arbogast was so ill from uremic poisoning last December that he was incapable of executing a valid deed and contract.

However, three attorneys and the clerk to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners testified that Mr. Arbogast was of sound mind when the December 12 will was signed. The attorneys were Estel C. Kelley, who drew up the will, and Simon F. Reilly and Peter J. Carpenti, partners in his office. James G. Stevenson, clerk to the commissioners, testified that he had known Mr. Arbogast for years and knew of his intent to leave the property to John L. Arbogast.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs in yesterday's action were Harry I. Stegmaier and William L. Wilson. Defense attorneys were John M. Robb and Peter J. Carpenti.

Weller Given 2 To 4 Years For Burglary

Sentence On Other Counts Suspended

Garnett Roy Weller, 29-year-old Hagerstown safecracker, yesterday was sentenced in Bedford to two to four years in the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburgh for burglary.

Judge Richard C. Snyder suspended imposition of sentences on other charges of possession of burglary tools and two Uniform Firearms Act counts against Weller.

Weller was indicted by a Bedford County (Pa.) grand jury May 4 and pleaded guilty to the four charges before Judge Snyder on May 12. The court deferred passing sentence at that time pending a pre-sentencing investigation.

William E. Van Horn Jr., Bedford County prosecutor, said yesterday that Washington County (Md.) authorities have placed a detainer against Weller for violation of parole there.

The man was arrested in Bedford April 11 by town police who caught him in the Bedford Farm Bureau Cooperative building. He was nabbed by Patrolmen Bernard E. Stufft and Charles E. Bingham, who came upon him near the vault-type safe in which the company's receipts were kept.

Investigation disclosed Weller had gained access to the building by climbing a grain storage elevator, crossing the roof and entering a second story window. A small bag of burglar's tools was found outside a side entrance of the building.

When arrested, Weller was carrying a .25 caliber pistol, and more than $1,000 worth of special burglar tools were found in his car after his arrest.

Motor Vehicles Building Site Is Supported

BALTIMORE (AP) — The office of Gov. Tawes, in answering criticism of a plan to erect a new Department of Motor Vehicles building in Anne Arundel County, said in effect Thursday the opposition was looking at the wrong figures.

Critics of the proposed move from downtown Baltimore to a site on Ritchie Highway near the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel have argued that the new location would inconvenience Baltimore city motorists.

They based their argument on the assumption that the city had about 50 per cent of all the vehicles registered in the state.

Not so, said the governor's office. Only 279,919 vehicles of the 1,082,218 licensed are located in the city.

Furthermore Lloyd L. Simpkins, administrative assistant to Tawes, said the Ritchie highway location would be easier to reach from most sections of the state than the present DMV building at Guilford avenue and 21st street.

The State Board of Public Works recently approved purchase of the 13 acre site off Ritchie highway at about $12,500 an acre. Critics contend the price is too high for the property. Earlier this week the Baltimore City Council passed a resolution urging the state to keep the building in the city.

Allegany County's Board of Commissioners got into the act this week with a letter opposing the proposed site. The western county commissioners said the DMV conducts most of its business by mail, and they want the new building erected in Allegany County.
